Victimized Milkman Re-enacts Highway Robbery

Donald G. Jones, 27-year-old Pottstown milkman held up yesterday on Route 83 in Monocacy, re-enacts the early-morning holdup. Here's the beginning: A man who had flagged him down, asked directions to Pottstown. As Jones leaned out to tell him, another man was sneaking up on the far side of the truck.

As Jones was giving directions, a swarthy man stepped through the open door of the truck on Jones' left. The swarthy man reached to the dashboard, turned off the ignition and pushed in the light switch. Jones reached out an arm to stop him, but by then, the man behind him was grabbing the other arm.

After the robbers took about $27 from Jones' wallet and pants pocket, the man behind him stuck something in his back, had Jones remove his belt, then tied Jones this way. The belt wasn't tight enough to keep Jones from wriggling free in a few minutes. But by then the three men (one had stayed in a car nearby) had sped away.

Jones looks ruefully at his empty wallet. Of the money stolen, $18 of it was Jones' own. The first recent highway robbery, it happened a few blocks west of the Monocacy school. There are several houses in the vicinity, but all were dark when the robbery occurred — at about 6:05 a. m.

Driver Robbed by Trio Along Road in Monocacy

By FRED C. SELBY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

A young Pottstown milkman, father of two children, was held up and robbed by three men along Route 83 in Monocacy early yesterday.

It was the first case of highway robbery reported in the Pottstown area in the past few years.

The victim, 27-year-old Donald G. Jones, 343 West Beech street, Pottsgrove manor, was left tied in his truck with his own belt. The robbers took about $27—$18 of it Jones' own money.

Jones said he wasn't sure whether any of the men were armed. He added, however, "One of them stuck something in my back, but I wasn't going to turn around and question him. It could have been a stick of chewing gum for all I cared right then."

* * *

WHILE one man was sticking something in his back, a second man was turning off the truck lights and emptying his wallet. The third man sat in a car, in which the trio of robbers sped away toward Pottstown.

The robbers threw away the truck keys, but Reading State police, who are investigating, found them along the road several hours later.

The hold-up took place near a service station, about two blocks west of the old brick school in Monocacy.

* * *

JONES was able to give a detailed description of one robber—the one who had stepped into the truck to turn off the ignition and turn off the lights.

Jones said this robber was nearly 6 feet tall, of medium build and swarthy. He was wearing a black leather jacket with silver cleat-like trappings on it such as many motorcycle riders wear. He also had a black cap with a white peak and an emblem of some sort sewed on it. The cap was pulled low across his forehead.

Jones had only fleeting glimpses of the man who stuck "something" in his back. Jones said he was about 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighed about 160 pounds, was bare-headed and and seemed to be wearing a wool jacket or short coat. Both men seemed young.

The robbers' car was a four-

New Highway Construction Theories Highlight Safety Council Meeting

Some new theories in highway construction work and a discussion on some projects now underway highlighted a meeting last night of the Montgomery County Safety council in the county courthouse, Norristown.

W. H. Caukins, assistant engineer of the State Highway department, told the 30 members attending that highways now are being constructed with a design of limited access to them.

"We now are creating channelization at intersections, along with the removal of hazards, in general construction work on highways," he said.

He said the Gwynned underpass on Route 202, outside of Norristown, now has been eliminated. A number of fatalities have occurred there, he added.

Work is being done on Route 73, from Zieglerville to New Hanover square. Also underway is the relocation of Route 309 so that it will run from Spring House to Philadelphia, he said.

Caukins said men now are working on Route 29, between Zieglerville and Red Hill, and on roads in Cheltenham township.

President O. C. Beacraft presided at the meeting.

Sun to Reign Again As Temperatures Hold High Level

There's another bright day in the offing for Pottstonians today, and for a while at least. Winter may seem a long way off.

Yesterday was bright and sunny, as predicted, and today will be the same. You can look for a high temperature between 45 and 52 degrees.

Once again the forecast is for some occasional rain, with tomorrow evening seen as the most likely time. It will be a generally cloudy day, but mild, according to the weatherman.

That rain should help the big game hunters, because it is much easier to walk quietly after the forests and fields have been wetted down.

In any case, the hunting weather has been fine, as witnessed by the large number of deer bagged by area men and women.

THE WEATHER

For Eastern Pennsylvania: Generally fair today with high of 45-52. Tomorrow, rather cloudy and mild followed by occasional rain.

Bills for shoveling snow and cleaning township roads were paid last night at a meeting of the Upper Uwchland supervisors.

President Arthur Green announced that one or more meetings will be held this year, and that will be towards the end of the month when the auditors will check the books and the board close out the year's business.

Roads have been patched wherever they were bad in the township he said.

Attending last night were Secretary-Treasurer Herman F. Arters and Supervisors Oscar Darlington and Edward F. Seaboldt.

Norco Supervisors Approve Hike In Cost

A request by Pottstown Fire companies that North Coventry township pay $1000 for fire protection next year now is in the hands of the auditors.

The three township supervisors last night gave their approval to the move, pending the sanction of the Norco auditors.

The auditors are Lester Yocom, Lester Rock and Mrs. Hazel Rutter.

Pottstown Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer made the request in a meeting Tuesday night at the home of Harry E. Yocum, Shenkel road, secretary of the board. Supervisors William D. Evans and William Williams also were present.

Yocum said last night that they have agreed to pay the money if the auditors are satisfied with the arrangement.

"They probably will meet shortly after our reorganization meeting, Jan. 4, and make their decision then," Yocum said.

* * *

LINDAUER WAS accompanied to the meeting by Robert Roth, Good Will Fire company chief, and Robert Malsberger, representing the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company.

He said the borough's companies make about 25 runs to Norco during a year.

The request to Norco township followed borough firemen's request the past week that council make a sharp increase in the amount of aid given the three companies.

Firemen said the increases became necessary because of a sharp dip in revenues the past two years.

The burglary, latest in the rash of thievery that has plagued the borough, was discovered early yesterday morning by Motor Patrolman Paul L. Galloway.

Victorious Pottstown Republicans at a caucus last night at Lakeside named a new council president, a new councilman, and hinted at a novel method of naming council committees.

The new councilman will be P. William Marshall, 20 West Fifth street, son of Councilman Paul Marshall of the Tenth ward.

Marshall will replace Ninth ward councilman Charles S. "Pete" Grubb, who will give up his council seat because of his victorious campaign for the tax collector post.

As for the new method of naming council committees, GOP leader William Boden said following the meeting that committee chairmen would be named by Council President Knause and that the chairmen would then pick the men they wanted to serve on the committee with them.

Sunday School Elects Education Panel To Replace Old Board of Control

Trinity Reformed Sunday school elected a new board of Christian education to replace the old Sunday school board of control at its annual dinner meeting in Sanatoga Grange hall this week.

In all, 13 new officers were elected, one to a new office. All other officers were re-elected.

Those elected to the board of Christian education for one year were John S. Bliem, Dorothy Saylor and Donald B. Kiehne. Elected for two years were Hathaway K. Geyer, Mrs. Howard Evans and Rodman Drake.

Other new officers are Mrs. Joseph Hinkel, attendance secretary; Howard Borgman, treasurer; Miriam Altenderfer, librarian (new office); Mrs. Calvin D. Huss, cradle roll superintendent; Mrs. Richard D. Dutcher, youth division leader; Richard D. Dutcher, intermediate department superintendent; George L. Hughes, superintendent of young people's department, and Mrs. Lloyd D. Klink Jr., children's division leader.

Richard C. Haury was re-elected Sunday school superintendent.

The Rev. John B. Frantz, church pastor, was re-elected director of Christian education; and Lester Reazer, Sunday school secretary.

* * *

A NEW CONSTITUTION for the Sunday school was adopted by the 50 members attending the meeting. It was prepared by a committee headed by Geyer, who led a discussion on the document before it was approved.

Haury led another discussion on proposed improvements to the Sunday school room and Fellowship hall.

The Rev. Frantz, who presided at the meeting announced that the new board of Christian education would include 11 members instead of the nine on the old board.

These will be the six elected members, two others to be appointed by the pastor and the Sunday school superintendent, children's division leader and the youth division leader.

* * *

IN A BRIEF address, the Rev. Frantz spoke on the causes of juvenile delinquency.

"Back of every delinquent child is a delinquent or careless parent," he said.

He observed that half the delinquent children today come from homes broken by death or divorce.

It is the responsibility of church school workers to help the youth of the community build an adequate foundation in moral and spiritual principles, the pastor concluded.

John S. Bliem showed the group some motion pictures taken at the past Summer's Sunday school picnic and another film entitled "For Every Child."

Mrs. Anna Van Buskirk, a teacher of Trinity Bible class for many years, and now in ill health, was remembered in silent prayer during the meeting.

To improve the golden moments of opportunity, and catch the good that is within our reach, is the great art of life.—Anonymous

Use Present Police Power

POTTSTOWN has been agog the past few days discussing the latest proposal that three policemen be added to the force.

The suggestion came at a police committee meeting earlier this week. It was a sudden suggestion, one that was advanced with no sustaining reasons and no talk of what the cost would be, or where the money was to come from.

Just as if Pottstown's good fairies could provide the police additions, Councilman Stanley Zawaski mused:

"I'd like to have three more policemen added to the force."

There wasn't any discussion. Chairman Earl Strange, who's a councilman from the West Ward, broke an embarrassing silence with the remark: "It's all right with me. I'm certainly in favor of it."

Then, as if he had to bolster his request in the face of more silence, Councilman Zawaski added: "We certainly need them. We need at least three."

No reasons why. No comparisons with other communities. No comment on how much it would cost and what the department would do with more police. Just a flat statement.

Then the committeemen agreed Pottstown was a growing town and they were in favor of more police.

* * *

There is plenty of weight on the side of persons who oppose the addition of policemen. They ask:

"Why don't we use the policemen we now have?"

And they have something there.

THE TRUTH IS THAT POTTSTOWN DOES NOT NEED MORE POLICE. IT NEEDS SOMEONE WHO CAN EMPLOY THE PRESENT NUMBER OF POLICE IN AN ECONOMICAL, EFFICIENT MANNER.

This can be accomplished by employing a three-platoon system, with rotating shifts and with no favoritism showed any member of the force.

It further can be accomplished by utilizing the full strength of the force, that is, by putting the present desk sergeants on foot beats and using civilian telephone operators at borough hall.

* * *

Pottstown persons are too aware of the lack of discipline in the police department. Pottstonians too often have observed and commented on the two or three policemen standing on corners having chatfests, of the policemen spending their time in restaurants, or at gasoline stations.

When the police recently were given a $500 a year raise, a veteran Pottstown councilman remarked: "I hope this will be an incentive for them to do more work."

To the sincere policeman who is anxious to do his job, the raise might have acted as a spur to duty. But the morale of the department is so shot, with favoritism riddling the ranks, that the effect on the larger number was doubted.

Police have asked a three-platoon system to break up almost continual graveyard shift employment of the young police. They have suggested themselves that manpower be added to the early morning shift, where only two are on duty from 4 to 8 a.m., the time when most crime is committed.

Heads of the police department in the past have refused to heed these pleas. Promises of rotating the shifts never were kept, although schedules were prepared for the head of the department.

The strength of the force, the abilities of veteran policemen were concentrated during daylight hours, when patroling of the community is least needed.

This concentration was allowed to exist because a borough official disparingly declared some police were only good enough to lead funerals! Policewomen to act as traffic directors may have been added to give these funeral-leaders more time!

* * *

The strange part of the additional three policemen suggestion is that it did not stem from the police chief, or from the burgess, who is the commander-in-chief.

So far as the public record is concerned, neither made recommendations.

That may be to their credit.

It at least would be wise for the police committee to get opinions from the chief of police and from the burgess. Why should Pottstown have more police, and what would it do with them?

PUNKIN CORNERS,
December 2.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see whar only two fellers went off from Pottstown in the draft. 'Twasn't much of a draft. Hardly worth while openin' the door. But it was nice of the borough people to come out and see 'em off. I guess them bigwigs like to make speeches no matter how few people listen.

'N' I see whar a cigar box factory is goin' to open up over Elverson way. I guess them Bethlehem Steel fellers is needin' some containers to put their iron ore in.

Now Pottstown wants a thousand bucks from North Coventry for runnin' to its fires. Heck, I saw lotsa motorists and kids who will race to the fires for free, if only you let 'em know about it. You mean people actually get paid goin' to fires? We never did when we was kids.

Hopin' you air the same,

'Deer Slaughter' No Sport

No Sport in Deer Slaughter

To the Editor: Now we have to see the deer killers plastered all over The Mercury.

Why?

Have they achieved something other than their lust to kill? Does it require intelligence when any fool can kill?

Or must they kill something even though it is a defenseless deer in order to prove to themselves they are entitled to have their names placed on that great honor roll of killers of defenseless animals at the plant in which they work?

Why is it called sport to kill that which cannot kill back? Especially since so many of these brave heroes stalk their prey in the dark of night and early morning hours?

What is sportsmanship about the sonny boys all togged out in their new killing suits surrounding one deer while the old blokes with one foot in the grave wait at the neck of the woods to blast it in case it dares to make a break for its life?

Nothing is more important to any of them than life itself, yet somehow to take the life of an unarmed animal puffs them up with self esteem.

They are ready to burst with pride when they see their name go on that honor roll at work.

Still, if one of them gets accidently shot and killed it's supposed to be a tragedy!

Why?

That's what I like to see in my Mercury. See them get what they hand out.

Pain in Neck Fund

To the Editor: Some people through television and radio are shooting of their mouths that for the past 20 years we have been the healthiest nation on earth.

Is that why for the past 20 years they were and are begging for cancer and what have you funds?

They tell us right to our faces we may be the next victim.

Victim is right—but not by the disease germ

Why doesn't someone start a pain in the neck fund" Then we the public could all benefit by same

Pottstown IVA PAINE

Save Daylight Year 'Round

To the Editor: The way it is getting dark late in the afternoon these days is reason enough to have daylight saving time all the year around instead of only in the Summer. It worked swell during the war and everybody was happy except a few rock-head farmers who are too lazy to get up and take care of their livestock.

But children need more daylight hours in which to play. The way it is now they can have no fun outside in the crisp, cool air after school because it gets dark so soon.

Then too we could save a lot on the electric bill, there wouldn't be so many auto accidents because when it is dark it would be suppertime and everybody would be home, and the winter nights wouldn't be so long and tiresome.

Let's have daylight saving time all year around and let the farmers yell their selfish heads off if they don't like it.

Pottstown WEST WARD

When Mothers Beat Children

To the Editor: In answer to "Her Heart Ache" (Readers Say, Dec. 1, "Meanest Mothers of All').

I have just finished reading your fine editorial and you are so right. My heart aches too for the children of this world of ours, and I hope every mother in Pottstown reads your article.

There is something definitely wrong with the young parents of today and there is one word for it, selfishness.

Yelling and screaming at the little ones and punishing them when they are tired and hungry is no way to handle children

How cruel can you parents be? Why don't you try a little love and understanding? It works wonders.

Our blessed Saviour loved the little ones best of all, and as He said, "Let the little ones come unto Me, For such is the kingdom of heaven."

Pottstown LOVER OF CHILDREN

More Trash Cans Asked

To the Editor: This idea of having trash cans at certain corners in town is a good idea.

People have gotten used to them and they carry their trash there and throw it in instead of littering up the street.

But there should be a lot more trash cans around.

If we had more, Pottstown would be a much neater and a much cleaner town.

People are anxious to put their candy wrappers in a trash can, but you can't expect them to carry the wrappers five blocks to a trash can.

WASHINGTON

Citizens Turned Traitor Were Insecure, 'Yellow'

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Ever since Rep. Martin Dies of Texas began his investigation of American Communists almost 20 years ago, and especially since the Harry Truman-Harry White-Harry Vaughan climax of the past few weeks, the curbstone question about this Red conspiracy in our midst has been:

"How is it that Americans with fine educations, solid backgrounds, good homes and families, and good jobs and prospects, could betray the country which gave them these riches—which gave them these opportunities—which gave them freedom to talk, to worship, to vote, to work and to live as they pleased?"

That is the $64 question.

Although no Eisenhower, no Truman, no Brownell, no Senator McCarthy and no Congressional committee has tried to answer this question, it is the basic problem behind the current controversy. It is fundamental to our way of life and living.

Either we are a failure or they are. Which? Unanswered, the verdict may be against us. So, this column might be entitled a psychiatric study of the traitors and their collaborators within the Government.

Fortunately, a close-up view of the anti-American actors in this harrowing tragedy, provides extremely comforting conclusions. A nonprofessional, psychiatric study of these political perverts discloses that they were abnormal Americans for quite definable causes. They just were not our kind of people!

* * *

OVEREDUCATED CASES—For one thing, they were not "well educated." They were "overeducated."

As students, instructors and clamorous claimants for unnecessary degrees, they lingered pathologically long in academic cloisters.

They could have obtained far more education in business and industry. But they did not have the guts to step out of school and go to work. That observation applies to every subersive listed in FBI files College was their escape from bread-and-butter reality.

Few came from good homes, solid backgrounds or constructive environment. Many came from homes broken up by divorce or desertion. Some were born abroad—Russia, Poland, Lithuania, Canada—where their families had suffered extreme hardships, as well as social, economic and political frustration. They were hunted and harassed peoples.

Few had "good jobs." Most of them starved during the early days of the depression. They herded into Uncle Sam's service during these years at an average salary of $2500.

Harry Dexter White's salary was only $3000, although he had corralled numerous academic degrees when Prof. Jacob Viner called him and Lauchlin Currie to the Treasury in 1934. They were failures in their own mind.

Their lack of guts, their sense of insecurity and their cowardice were demonstrated by their rush to accept Government employment, just as they had been unhappily content with poor pay as collegiate instructors and beneficiaries of fellowship grants. They embarked on a restless, nervous, hungry voyage for security. They were yellow!

The depression had a devastating effect on them. It confirmed their collegiate and professorial beliefs that laissez-faire capitalism was a failure. They tossed Adam Smith out the campus window in favor of Karl Marx's system of a planned society.

Former screen actress June Haver, recently out of a nunnery, is on the brink of announcing her engagament to Joseph Campbell, a wealthy department store scion.

Gloria Swanson

The activity of their lawyers indicates practically no hope for a reconciliation between millionaire Howard Dodge and his glamorous blond wife, Gregg Sherwood... Bea Lillie has recovered from the laryngitis attack that made her miss a performance in Pittsburgh.

Model Joyce McCord is the girl who runs to meet the mailman when he arrives at the Rehearsal club. She gets love notes from Steve Cochran almost every day. Unexpected hit in the New York bookstores is a volume on yogi—"Forever Young, Forever Healthy." Sounds like this season's version of Gayelord Hauser's "Look Younger, Live Longer."

* * *

JOHN C. Wilson has airmailed a script of his forthcoming play to Joan Fontaine on the West Coast. She'll have to make up her mind fast, because rehearsals start soon. Eva LeGallienne is already set for the show.

Manhattan's midtown area grows to look more and more like the sideshow section of a carnival. Besides the many slot-machine "playlands" and gimcrack souvenir shops, there's now a gypsy fortune-telling store... Gloria Swanson definitely has decided against doing a night club act. She was supposed to make her debut in one of the Las Vegas gambling palaces, but thought better of it.

Silver lining note: The manufacturer of a liquid hair formula, stuck with thousands of unsold bottles and ready to dump the stuff, made an amazing discovery in the nick of time. He can re-bottle and market the hair-prettier as an auto polish!

IF THE ANDY Russells go through with the divorce proceedings, Della's community property share will be impressive. Andy, a thrifty lad, is one of the richest vocalists in the country—and one of the few who don't owe a penny to Uncle Sam.

Queen Frederika of Greece was understandably puzzled to note a Department of Correction van in the police escort that was part of the official welcoming parade for her and King Paul. For Her Majesty's information, the odd vehicle was used to transport the musical instruments for the Police department band.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

GERTRUDE P., is a religious zealot who also writes poetry.

"Dr. Crane, instead of telling husbands and wives how to get along in the marital relationship," she protested disdainfully after a lecture I'd given in her church, "it would be far better if you taught them to abstain entirely from such lustful things except for procreation.

"Why don't you urge man to curb his animal desires and lead a life on a purely spiritual plane.

"Let man cultivate an interest in esthetics and concentrate on art or poetry. Let him dwell on higher things.

"There is too much lust and sex already without talking about such bestial things!"

* * *

GERTRUDE IS trying to compensate for the fact she has lost her husband to another woman. I'm sorry for her, and I'm glad she writes ethereal poetry, for this may insure her sanity.

But God gave us a brain so we'd use "horse sense" and attain happiness in the normal arrangements of life.

He gave us a healthy stomach, for example, which demands bread. Then he also gave us a Commandment, "Thou shalt not steal."

He didn't expect our clergymen to urge their parishioners to try to do without food and live on poetry.

Suppose we were sent out into the world hungry and then urged to refrain from thievery! Why, we'd find far more violators of the Commandment against stealing.

Such a form of ethics would thus have an abornmal strain placed upon it and soon would break down.

* * *

INSTINCTS CAN be modified and channeled in proper grooves, but they cannot long be entirely repressed.

For man has two basic appetites that must be fed regularly if he is to remain sufficiently sane and self-controlled to be a good church member.

It is far more sensible to teach man how to satisfy both hungers within the limits of the moral code, than to try to oppose human instincts and preach a complete asceticism.

Men and women like Gertrude are whistling in the dark to keep up their own courage. Sooner or later they become hysterical, neurotic and often end in a mental institution.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2—Julie London, ex-mate of Jack "Dragnet" Webb wants to resume her career — and is studying voice. (Just give us the acts, ma'am!) . . . Macdonald Carey and Maureen O'Hara have been feuding hot and heavy during the filming of "Fire Over Africa" which has been shooting in Spain. Their tiffs, plus Maureen's squabbling with the director over script-changes, her costumes, etc., have put the picture weeks behind schedule. O'Hara goes to Ireland to visit her folks over Christmas — then filming gets underway again in London. Alexander Korda is financing "Fire" — which will be released by Columbia in the USA . . . Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch said he'd be thinking of naught but football for months to come, but he's about to be screen tested at 20th-Fox. Elroy is wanted for "Women in the Woods," a CinemaScoper to be made right after the first of the year.

Gene Tierney

NEXT MONTH sees the return of Gene Tierney to the Hollywoods. So far as she's concerned, Aly khan stay in Europe (or anywhere else!) without HER! . . . And next month Byron Palmer breaks in his night-club act, long underway. . . . In December, Ida Lupino makes her dramatic television debut in "House for Sale" for Four Star Playhouse. . . . Keefe Braselle journeys East for stage stints plugging "The Eddie Cantor Story" . . . And it's expected a half million $$$ will be spent exploiting "The Greatest Love" (formerly "Europe, 51") soon to show in American theaters. This is an Italian picture starring Ingrid Bergman, directed by Roberto Wotzisname?

SORRY, "no names" — but we gotta tell you this delish bit—relayed by a pal in Honolulu. A Hollywood producer was there quite recently and he had trouble eating —even at the Royal Hawaiian hotel. On account of his false teeth hurt him. One lunchtime, he took out the pearlies and put them in his back pocket. A while later he got into the crowded hotel elevator, and was pushed heavily against its back wall as it filled to capacity. The plate broke, and some of the dentures dug into his derrierre. An hour later, this prominent executive stormed into the hotel offices, threatening to sue. Not only for his "falsies" — but for medical care! ! Need we add he got nowhere fast? ? ? ?

FOLKS OF FAME—GUESS THE NAME

1. This musical director was born in Corono, L.I., June 12, 1909, and was taking an engineering course at Columbia university, in New York, when he became interested in arranging music. By 1931 he had his own correspondence school in arranging, and in 1934 he had his first orchestra. You have seen him many times on the Arthur Godfrey television program which he has now left. Who is he?

2. This actor-singer was born in Rock Island, Ill., on April 22, 1908. He was a vocalist in his home town, spent two years at Minnesota university, then went to New York where he annexed a job on radio. YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ALLERGY is a medical term being greatly misused lately by many lay persons. It is receiving the blame for everything from marital incompatibility to plain laziness, as in the case of the individual who is allergic to work.

Actually, it is a form of increased sensitivity which may affect various tissues of the body. It is the result of exposure to a substance to which the individual is extremely sensitive.

There are many types of allergies. An individual may have hay fever, asthma, hives, or severe skin symptoms due to his oversensitivity to one or more substances contacted.

A frequent question asked the doctor is whether allergy tends to run in families. Until recently, it was thought that allergy, which occurs in about 10 percent of the population, was on a somewhat hereditary basis.

Recently, a detailed study was made of 250 allergic children and their families. The ages of the children ranged from infancy to 16 years.

Only a little more than 10 percent of these children's parents were allergic and only 7 percent of the grandparents; and allergy was present in only 9 percent of their brothers and sisters. It was found that there was a tendency for allergy to appear in fairly large numbers in only a certain few families.

Evidence was also discovered to show that the presence of allergy in both parents would not necessarily lead to an increased tendency toward allergy in the children. When one member of a set of twins was allergic, the other did not necessarily develop an allergy.

Every individual is potentially capable of developing an allergy. It is believed that the amount of exposure to the substance causing the allergy, and the degree to which it penetrates the tissue cells, are the major factors in determining its onset.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

ANSWER: Most cases of a rupture or hernia need surgery. However, in certain cases, the injection treatment is helpful in treating this condition, especially when the person is old and debilitated and unable to withstand surgery.

Use Present Police Power

POTTSTOWN has been agog the past few days discussing the latest proposal that three policemen be added to the force.

The suggestion came at a police committee meeting earlier this week. It was a sudden suggestion, one that was advanced with no sustaining reasons and no talk of what the cost would be, or where the money was to come from.

Just as if Pottstown's good fairies could provide the police additions, Councilman Stanley Zawaski mused:

"I'd like to have three more policemen added to the force."

There wasn't any discussion. Chairman Earl Strange, who's a councilman from the West Ward, broke an embarrassing silence with the remark: "It's all right with me. I'm certainly in favor of it."

Then, as if he had to bolster his request in the face of more silence, Councilman Zawaski added: "We certainly need them. We need at least three."

No reasons why. No comparisons with other communities. No comment on how much it would cost and what the department would do with more police. Just a flat statement.

Then the committeemen agreed Pottstown was a growing town and they were in favor of more police.

* * *

There is plenty of weight on the side of persons who oppose the addition of policemen. They ask:

"Why don't we use the policemen we now have?"

And they have something there.

THE TRUTH IS THAT POTTSTOWN DOES NOT NEED MORE POLICE. IT NEEDS SOMEONE WHO CAN EMPLOY THE PRESENT NUMBER OF POLICE IN AN ECONOMICAL, EFFICIENT MANNER.

This can be accomplished by employing a three-platoon system, with rotating shifts and with no favoritism showed any member of the force.

It further can be accomplished by utilizing the full strength of the force, that is, by putting the present desk sergeants on foot beats and using civilian telephone operators at borough hall.

* * *

Pottstown persons are too aware of the lack of discipline in the police department. Pottstonians too often have observed and commented on the two or three policemen standing on corners having chatfests, of the policemen spending their time in restaurants, or at gasoline stations.

When the police recently were given a $500 a year raise, a veteran Pottstown councilman remarked: "I hope this will be an incentive for them to do more work."

To the sincere policeman who is anxious to do his job, the raise might have acted as a spur to duty. But the morale of the department is so shot, with favoritism riddling the ranks, that the effect on the larger number was doubted.

Police have asked a three-platoon system to break up almost continual graveyard shift employment of the young police. They have suggested themselves that manpower be added to the early morning shift, where only two are on duty from 4 to 8 a.m., the time when most crime is committed.

Heads of the police department in the past have refused to heed these pleas. Promises of rotating the shifts never were kept, although schedules were prepared for the head of the department.

The strength of the force, the abilities of veteran policemen were concentrated during daylight hours, when patroling of the community is least needed.

This concentration was allowed to exist because a borough official disparingly declared some police were only good enough to lead funerals! Policewomen to act as traffic directors may have been added to give these funeral-leaders more time!

* * *

The strange part of the additional three policemen suggestion is that it did not stem from the police chief, or from the burgess, who is the commander-in-chief.

So far as the public record is concerned, neither made recommendations. That may be to their credit.

It at least would be wise for the police committee to get opinions from the chief of police and from the burgess. Why should Pottstown have more police, and what would it do with them?

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see whar only two fellers went off from Pottstown in the draft. 'Twasn't much of a draft. Hardly worth while openin' the door. But it was nice of the borough people to come out and see 'em off. I guess them bigwigs like to make speeches no matter how few people listen.

Now Pottstown wants a thousand bucks from North Coventry for runnin' to its fires. Heck, I saw lotsa motorists and kids who will race to the fires for free, if only you let 'em know about it. You mean people actually get paid goin' to fires? We never did when we was kids.

'Deer Slaughter' No Sport

No Sport in Deer Slaughter

To the Editor: Now we have to see the deer killers plastered all over The Mercury.

Why?

Have they achieved something other than their lust to kill? Does it require intelligence when any fool can kill?

Or must they kill something even though it is a defenseless deer in order to prove to themselves they are entitled to have their names placed on that great honor roll of killers of defenseless animals at the plant in which they work?

Why is it called sport to kill that which cannot kill back? Especially since so many of these brave heroes stalk their prey in the dark of night and early morning hours?

What is sportsmanship about the sonny boys all togged out in their new killing suits surrounding one deer while the old blokes with one foot in the grave wait at the neck of the woods to blast it in case it dares to make a break for its life?

Nothing is more important to any of them than life itself, yet somehow to take the life of an unarmed animal puffs them up with self esteem.

Still, if one of them gets accidently shot and killed it's supposed to be a tragedy!

Why?

That's what I like to see in my Mercury. See them get what they hand out.

Pain in Neck Fund

To the Editor: Some people through television and radio are shooting of their mouths that for the past 20 years we have been the healthiest nation on earth.

Is that why for the past 20 years they were and are begging for cancer and what have you funds?

They tell us right to our faces we may be the next victim.

Victim is right—but not by the disease germ.

Why doesn't someone start a pain in the neck fund? Then we the public could all benefit by same.

Save Daylight Year 'Round

To the Editor: The way it is getting dark late in the afternoon these days is reason enough to have daylight saving time all the year around instead of only in the Summer. It worked swell during the war and everybody was happy except a few rock-head farmers who are too lazy to get up and take care of their livestock.

But children need more daylight hours in which to play. The way it is now they can have no fun outside in the crisp, cool air after school because it gets dark so soon.

Then too we could save a lot on the electric bill, there wouldn't be so many auto accidents because when it is dark it would be suppertime and everybody would be home, and the winter nights wouldn't be so long and tiresome.

Let's have daylight saving time all year around and let the farmers yell their selfish heads off if they don't like it.

When Mothers Beat Children

To the Editor: In answer to "Her Heart Ache" (Readers Say, Dec. 1, "Meanest Mothers of All').

I have just finished reading your fine editorial and you are so right. My heart aches too for the children of this world of ours, and I hope every mother in Pottstown reads your article.

There is something definitely wrong with the young parents of today and there is one word for it, selfishness.

Yelling and screaming at the little ones and punishing them when they are tired and hungry is no way to handle children.

How cruel can you parents be? Why don't you try a little love and understanding? It works wonders.

Our blessed Saviour loved the little ones best of all, and as He said, "Let the little ones come unto Me, For such is the kingdom of heaven."

More Trash Cans Asked

People have gotten used to them and they carry their trash there and throw it in instead of littering up the street.

But there should be a lot more trash cans around.

If we had more, Pottstown would be a much neater and a much cleaner town.

People are anxious to put their candy wrappers in a trash can, but you can't expect them to carry the wrappers five blocks to a trash can.

Citizens Turned Traitor Were Insecure, 'Yellow'

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Ever since Rep. Martin Dies of Texas began his investigation of American Communists almost 20 years ago, and especially since the Harry Truman-Harry White-Harry Vaughan climax of the past few weeks, the curbstone question about this Red conspiracy in our midst has been:

"How is it that Americans with fine educations, solid backgrounds, good homes and families, and good jobs and prospects, could betray the country which gave them these riches—which gave them these opportunities—which gave them freedom to talk, to worship, to vote, to work and to live as they pleased?"

That is the $64 question.

Although no Eisenhower, no Truman, no Brownell, no Senator McCarthy and no Congressional committee has tried to answer this question, it is the basic problem behind the current controversy. It is fundamental to our way of life and living.

Either we are a failure or they are. Which? Unanswered, the verdict may be against us. So, this column might be entitled a psychiatric study of the traitors and their collaborators within the Government.

Fortunately, a close-up view of the anti-American actors in this harrowing tragedy, provides extremely comforting conclusions. A nonprofessional, psychiatric study of these political perverts discloses that they were abnormal Americans for quite definable causes. They just were not our kind of people!

* * *

OVEREDUCATED CASES—For one thing, they were not "well educated." They were "overeducated."

As students, instructors and clamorous claimants for unnecessary degrees, they lingered pathologically long in academic cloisters.

They could have obtained far more education in business and industry. But they did not have the guts to step out of school and go to work. That observation applies to every subersive listed in FBI files. College was their escape from bread-and-butter reality.

Few came from good homes, solid backgrounds or constructive environment. Many came from homes broken up by divorce or desertion. Some were born abroad—Russia, Poland, Lithuania, Canada—where their families had suffered extreme hardships, as well as social, economic and political frustration. They were hunted and harassed peoples.

Few had "good jobs." Most of them starved during the early days of the depression. They herded into Uncle Sam's service during these years at an average salary of $2500.

Harry Dexter White's salary was only $3000, although he had corralled numerous academic degrees when Prof. Jacob Viner called him and Lauchlin Currie to the Treasury in 1934. They were failures in their own mind.

Their lack of guts, their sense of insecurity and their cowardice were demonstrated by their rush to accept Government employment, just as they had been unhappily content with poor pay as collegiate instructors and beneficiaries of fellowship grants. They embarked on a restless, nervous, hungry voyage for security. They were yellow!

The depression had a devastating effect on them. It confirmed their collegiate and professorial beliefs that laissez-faire capitalism was a failure. They tossed Adam Smith out the campus window in favor of Karl Marx's system of a planned society.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

GERTRUDE P., is a religious zealot who also writes poetry.

"Dr. Crane, instead of telling husbands and wives how to get along in the marital relationship," she protested disdainfully after a lecture I'd given in her church, "it would be far better if you taught them to abstain entirely from such lustful things except for procreation.

"Why don't you urge man to curb his animal desires and lead a life on a purely spiritual plane.

"Let man cultivate an interest in esthetics and concentrate on art or poetry. Let him dwell on higher things.

"There is too much lust and sex already without talking about such bestial things!"

* * *

GERTRUDE IS trying to compensate for the fact she has lost her husband to another woman. I'm sorry for her, and I'm glad she writes ethereal poetry, for this may insure her sanity.

But God gave us a brain so we'd use "horse sense" and attain happiness in the normal arrangements of life.

He gave us a healthy stomach, for example, which demands bread. Then he also gave us a Commandment, "Thou shalt not steal."

He didn't expect our clergymen to urge their parishioners to try to do without food and live on poetry.

Suppose we were sent out into the world hungry and then urged to refrain from thievery! Why, we'd find far more violators of the Commandment against stealing.

Such a form of ethics would thus have an abornmal strain placed upon it and soon would break down.

* * *

INSTINCTS CAN be modified and channeled in proper grooves, but they cannot long be entirely repressed.

For man has two basic appetites that must be fed regularly if he is to remain sufficiently sane and self-controlled to be a good church member.

It is far more sensible to teach man how to satisfy both hungers within the limits of the moral code, than to try to oppose human instincts and preach a complete asceticism.

Men and women like Gertrude are whistling in the dark to keep up their own courage. Sooner or later they become hysterical, neurotic and often end in a mental institution.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ALLERGY is a medical term being greatly misused lately by many lay persons. It is receiving the blame for everything from marital incompatibility to plain laziness, as in the case of the individual who is allergic to work.

Actually, it is a form of increased sensitivity which may affect various tissues of the body. It is the result of exposure to a substance to which the individual is extremely sensitive.

There are many types of allergies. An individual may have hay fever, asthma, hives, or severe skin symptoms due to his oversensitivity to one or more substances contacted.

A frequent question asked the doctor is whether allergy tends to run in families. Until recently, it was thought that allergy, which occurs in about 10 percent of the population, was on a somewhat hereditary basis.

Recently, a detailed study was made of 250 allergic children and their families. The ages of the children ranged from infancy to 16 years.

Only a little more than 10 percent of these children's parents were allergic and only 7 percent of the grandparents; and allergy was present in only 9 percent of their brothers and sisters. It was found that there was a tendency for allergy to appear in fairly large numbers in only a certain few families.

Evidence was also discovered to show that the presence of allergy in both parents would not necessarily lead to an increased tendency toward allergy in the children. When one member of a set of twins was allergic, the other did not necessarily develop an allergy.

Every individual is potentially capable of developing an allergy. It is believed that the amount of exposure to the substance causing the allergy, and the degree to which it penetrates the tissue cells, are the major factors in determining its onset.

Heredity is not now considered an important factor.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. T.: Is it possible to heal a rupture by injection treatment?

ANSWER: Most cases of a rupture or hernia need surgery. However, in certain cases, the injection treatment is helpful in treating this condition, especially when the person is old and debilitated and unable to withstand surgery.

MUSIC LOVERS FILL CHURCH FOR ANNUAL RECITAL

Sacred Music Presented Under Women's Class Auspices

RIDGE ROAD — Lile McDonald, del. Phone Eagle 8-5219.

Music lovers from this area filled the East Vincent Evangelical and Reformed church recently when the annual recital of sacred music was presented under the auspices of the Young Women's class of the church.

The Rev. Eugene A. Harmony, pastor of the Zion's Lutheran church, Schulykill road, was at the organ, and Paulene A. Brown, soprano, rendered vocal numbers.

The Rev. Harmony has studied with Dr. Harold K. Marks, former professor of music at Muhlenberg college, and also with Maestro Guiseppe Moschetti, director of music in St. John's church, Allentown. He is studying at present with Prof. Ludwig Lenel, chairman of the music department of Muhlenberg college.

Miss Brown is soprano soloist of St. Paul's Church at Catasauqua and has studied with Floyd Worthington in New York City, with Queena Mario, formerly with the Metropolitan Opera company, and at present with Mrs. Jeanette Holman, former assistant professor of music at Cedar Crest college. While in New York, Miss Brown was a member of the Robert Shaw Collegiate Chorale.

"Prelude for Organ" by A. Gabricle, a number composed for the public festival given in honor of Henry III when he visited Venice, was the first number rendered by the Rev. Harmony. His other selections included "Pavane," W. Byrd, a dance of Italian origin having two-in-a-measure rhythm; "Toccata," G. Frescobaldi, a number from the Musical Flowers, a group of compositions based on Gregorian tones.

Here's how you'll be fitted comfortably in your Perma-Lift Girdle and Bra when you come to the New York Store corset department

Measuring

First one of our experienced corsetieres will determine your waist measurement. Perma-Lift Girdles are designed with a 12-inch allowance between waist and hip. If your waist measures 26 inches, your Girdle will fit a 36 to 38-inch hip comfortably.

Correct Length

Length of a Girdle is important; if it's too long, it will rub and irritate—if it's too short, it will ride up. The bottom of your Girdle should anchor from 1 to 1½-inches below your derriere. Perma-Lift Girdles are made in 13 to 16-inch lengths.

The Magic Inset

Perma-Lift Girdles have a soft yet firm Magic Inset which eliminates uncomfortable bones in the center panel. It accomplishes wonders; your Girdle won't roll over, won't bind. It will give wonderful tummy control.

CHRISTMAS NIGHT OPENINGS:
- OPEN THIS FRIDAY UNTIL 9
- OPEN MONDAY Next Week UNTIL 9
- OPEN WEDNESDAY Next Week UNTIL 9
- OPEN FRIDAY NEXT WEEK UNTIL 9

From 9:30 A.M.

Measuring

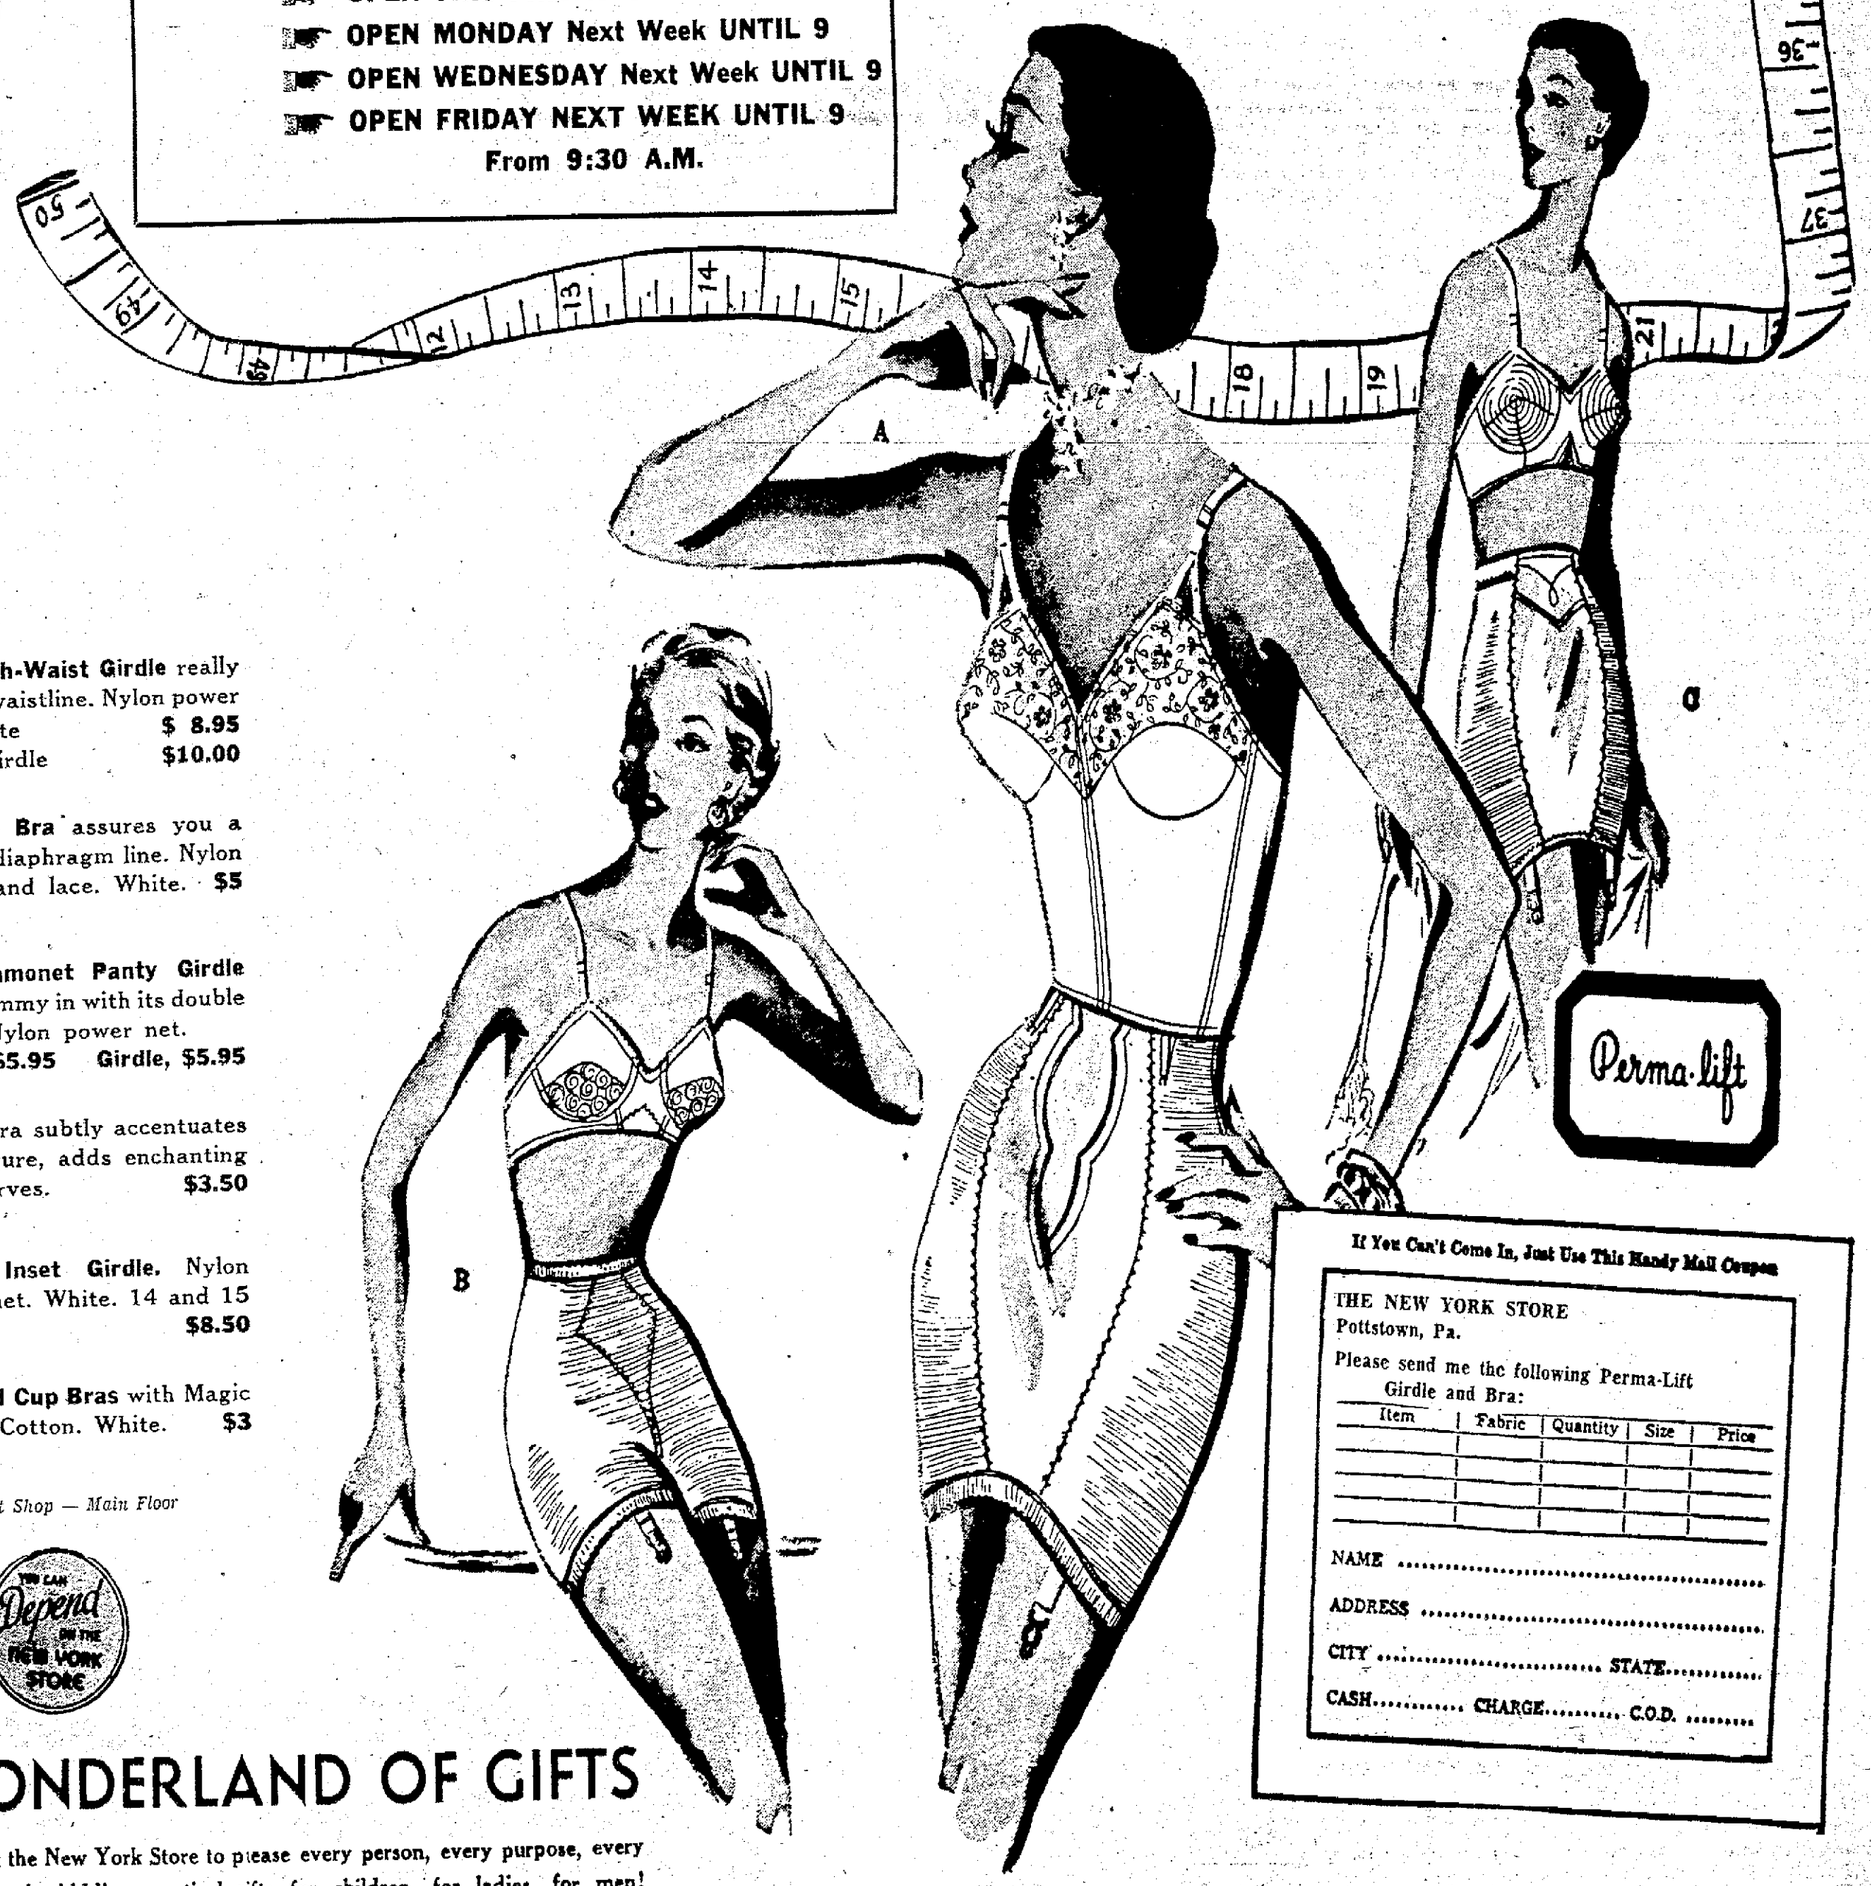
Here's how we will determine your brassiere size. Our corsetiere will measure around your diaphragm—add 6 inches—the total is your bra size. Perma-Lift brassiere cups are sized A, B, and C—the corsetiere will tell you which of these sizes you need.

Pull down in back

When you put your brassiere on, make certain it is pulled down in the back. Adjust the shoulder straps comfortably. In a Perma-Lift Bra the support will come from the base of the bra-cups—not from tight shoulder straps.

The Magic Inset

The famous Magic Insets—only in Perma-Lift Bras—are important to you. Here's why. They gently support your breasts from below — give you lasting uplift, beautiful curves. What's more, neither washing nor wearing will affect its uplift or support.



A. New High-Waist Girdle really defines waistline. Nylon power net. White $ 8.95

Two-Day Conference Closes With Talk on Leaders Techniques

A two-day Leaders' Training institute closed this week at Mercy and Truth synagog with a discussion on leadership techniques.

The guest speaker was Ben Solomon, editor of "Youth Leaders' Digest" and a training specialist in youth work. A total of 111 persons attended the four sessions of the institute.

It was sponsored by the Parents' Advisory committee on Teen-Age activities. Mrs. Howard Heath is chairman of the committee. Members include Mrs. Sara Hoffman of the Jewish Women's league, Charles Fegely of the YMCA and Robert Reis, recreation director.

Solomon discussed leadership techniques on the program level, administrative and policy-making levels. He also discussed the rewards of youth leadership and the work of volunteer leaders.

Mrs. Ethel Bowers conducted a session on "how to work with girls."

A question and answer period followed the meeting.

Solomon presented these persons with certificates for being present at all the sessions: Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Fannie Schorsch, Mrs. Sylvia Hoffman, Fegely, Reis and Mrs. Donald T. Floyd.

The Jewish Women's league was host to the visitors and served refreshments.

Rose Bushes Can Help Reduce Auto Accidents

SAUGUS, Mass., Dec. 2 (U) — A motor vehicle research company reporting on rose bushes as a safety factor when planted on safety islands says they resist the impact of a car as gently as a normal, light application of brakes.

The tests were made to design methods of reducing fatal accidents on multilane highways where vehicles might skid or run out of control.

150 Persons Hear Guest Speaker at East Vincent Church

RIDGE ROAD — Lile McDonald, del. Phone Eagle 8-5219.

The Rev. Dr. Tibor Csikesz, pastor of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed church, Phoenixville, was the guest speaker recently at Communion service held at the East Vincent church, with members of the Pikeland church as guests.

At least 150 persons attended the service and anthems were sung by the choir of the Pikeland church as well as the Junior choir of the East Vincent church. The service was conducted by the Rev. Robert F. Brillhart, pastor of both churches. Mrs. Wayne G. Hoffman was at the organ.

Dr. Czikesz in his sermon called the attention of the congregation to the two parts into which the world is divided—the "haves" and the "have nots." He expressed much gratitude that he has been permitted to become an American and has been able to change from a "have not" to a "have."

The speaker told briefly of poverty overseas when at times people had hardly a glass of water or a saucer of meal, and how thankful these folks were for anything at all.

The service was held by candlelight with window arrangements of evergreens and candles and tall candelabra flanking the center aisle of the church. The altar candles and the branched candelabra furnished light for the front of the church.

Two-Day Conference Closes With Talk on Leaders Techniques

A two-day Leaders' Training institute closed this week at Mercy and Truth synagog with a discussion on leadership techniques.

The guest speaker was Ben Solomon, editor of "Youth Leaders' Digest" and a training specialist in youth work. A total of 111 persons attended the four sessions of the institute.

It was sponsored by the Parents' Advisory committee on Teen-Age activities. Mrs. Howard Heath is chairman of the committee. Members include Mrs. Sara Hoffman of the Jewish Women's league, Charles Fegely of the YMCA and Robert Reis, recreation director.

Solomon discussed leadership techniques on the program level, administrative and policy-making levels. He also discussed the rewards of youth leadership and the work of volunteer leaders.

Mrs. Ethel Bowers conducted a session on "how to work with girls."

A question and answer period followed the meeting.

Solomon presented these persons with certificates for being present at all the sessions: Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Fannie Schorsch, Mrs. Sylvia Hoffman, Fegely, Reis and Mrs. Donald T. Floyd.

The Jewish Women's league was host to the visitors and served refreshments.

Delay in Shipment of Hill Church Pews Forces Postponement of Rededication

A delayed shipment of church pews has forced the Hill church, Boyertown RD 1, to postpone its rededication program, it was announced last night.

The Rev. John L. Herbster, pastor of the Reformed congregation, said that the program of services would be held one week later than was announced.

So instead of begining on Sunday, the program will begin the following Sunday, Dec. 13.

The pastor explained that the new pews for the church should have arrived Tuesday if they were to be installed before Sunday.

* * *

SERVICES WERE scheduled at first for this Sunday and for Wednesday and Friday of next week, with the big rededication service to be held on Dec. 13.

The rededication service will still be held on that date, but instead of preceeding it, the other service will follow it, the Rev. Herbster said.

A "night of music" will be held Dec. 16. The Rev. Paul J. Dundore, pastor of the Amityville charge will speak in place of the Rev. Edgar M. Cooper, pastor of New Hanover Lutheran.

Sunday school night will be held Dec. 18 and the concluding service will be held Dec. 20. This last service is the one that was to be held first.

$100,000 Budget Set For County Health Unit

BUTLER, Dec. 2 (AP)—A $100,000 a year budget is assured for a three-year trial period for the Butler county health department—first of its kind in the State.

Funds for each year of the period 1954-56 will come from three sources, Butler county commissioners said today. They are the State Health department, $50,000; A. W. Mellon Educational and Charitable Trust, $40,000 and $10,000 from the county.

County voters will decide in the 1956 Fall primary whether the health unit will continue. It was formed Oct. 6.

Most of the world's inhabitants live below the 600-foot level.

COUNTY AGENT IS VISITOR AS GRANGE MEETS

Varied Opinions Expressed On Outlook for 1954

Alvin Funk and Clarence Hedrick said they thought production of milk, eggs and poultry would be good next year.

Earl Bechtel said that prices of things farmers have to buy would probably be higher, though, and Christian Hunsicker predicted higher feed prices.

In general, the sentiments of the four speakers on the "forecast for '54" program were cautiously optimistic.

R. G. Waltz county agent, was a visitor at the meeting. He answered questions about farm methods and introduced his assistant, Marion Deppen.

Waltz also described the recent National convention of county agents held in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Harold Allebach was in charge of the program in the absence of Lecturer Ernest Yocum.

Ralph Spickard, new Grange master, presided at the business meeting. Fifty Grangers attended.

It was announced that a meeting of county agriculturists will be held at Hendricks hall, Collegeville, next Tuesday. It will be a noon dinner meeting, with all area farmers invited.

KNAUSE —

Wells will look into the situation.

* * *

THE PARTY members also discussed the police situation and especially the request made this week that three new policemen be added to the police department.

The concensus seemed to be that a thorough survey of the police department will have to be made before any steps are made to enlarge it.

The GOP'ers also discussed the recent budget requests from the fire companies, in which the three major companies asked for $16,000 each for 1954. Nothing definite was decided in their case, however.

Knause, who will take over as the new council president in January, has served in council nine years, two regular four-year terms and one year of an unexpired term.

* * *

DURING the past four years he has served as chairman of the finance committee and in every one of those years he successfully balanced the budget without raising taxes.

At one time or other, he has worked on every one of the council's committees.

A resident of 344 Rohland avenue, he has been a resident of Pottstown for 29 years, having been born in New Hanover.

The new councilman from the Ninth ward, replacing Charles Grubb is P. William Marshall.

* * *

MARSHALL is 33 years old, married and has two sons, aged nine and seven. He lives at 20 West Fifth street.

He is a graduate of Pottstown High school, class of '38; graduate of Lehigh university, was an industrial engineer for the Aluminum Company of America at New Kensington, for two years and served two years in the Merchant Marines.

He is now superintendent of the Zinc Casting and Cleaning division of the Doehler-Jarvis company.

It will mark his debut into the field of politics.

The promotion of Knause from head of the finance committee to council president leaves the important position of finance chairman open.

So far no one has been named to the post but it is believed that the job will go to either Wilbert O'Dell, councilman from the Eighth ward or Edward H. Hunnicutt, same ward.

DRIVER —

* * *

JONES gave this account of his unnerving experience:

He was in his truck, which had both its folding doors opened because he had several deliveries to make along that stretch of road.

As he was driving along slowly, the bare-headed man in the jacket or short coat "flagged me down and asked me the directions to Pottstown.

"I pulled off the road, and as I was talking to this guy, this other fellow walked into this (the right) side of the truck, and as he came in, he shut the ignition off and pulled the key out."

* * *

"I GRABBED for the key, but I was too late. Even then, I wasn't expecting a hold-up."

As the robber on his right pushed in the switch that turned off the headlights, the robber behind him on the driver's side grabbed Jones by one arm.

The driver's seat swiveled around.

Before I could do anything, the guy behind me had grabbed me by both arms, then he grabbed for my wallet quick. He actually threw it toward the other fellow, but it landed in that egg-box there (on the floor of the front seat).

The swarthy man in the black leather jacket picked up the wallet and emptied it of Jones' own money -- 11 $1 bills and a $5 bill.

* * *

JONES gave them $5 in bills belonging to the dairy, $2 of his own money and $4 in change.

The man behind Jones stuck something in his back, then had Jones take off his belt. He tied Jones' arms behind him with it.

The swarthy man in the black leather jacket told him, "Don't move for five or ten minutes, or you'll be sorry."

The two men then ran to their car, which had been parked a few dozen yards ahead of the Meadow Brook truck, on the wrong side of the road, facing Pottstown.

* * *

THE TWO MEN piled into the back seat. "The car door wasn't even shut before they were off," Jones said. "They didn't put the lights on until they were just about out of sight."

Without waiting for the five or ten minutes to go by, Jones tried to free himself. "I squirmed a couple times—they hadn't tied the belt too tight—and I got an arm free."

After he pulled off the belt, he went to the nearest house with a 'phone, that of Earl Bell. From there, he called Reading State police.

Despite his harrowing experince, Jones stayed on his route during the day.

Fire Chief Orders Flame - Proofing of Public Yule Trim

All Christmas decorations in public places in Pottstown must be flame-proofed, it wa announced yesterday by Borough Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, who also suggested fire-safety rules for local homes.

He said the best and simplest way to flame-proof a tree is to saturate the tree with water glass, which is available at drug stores. Spraying is preferable to brushing the water glass.

Chief Lindauer noted that the past year, there wasn't a single Christmas-time fire in the borough, and he said this year's record can be as good if decorations in public places are flame-proofed and if householders follow these rules for use of trees.

1. Choose a small tree instead of a large one. A small tree can be just as pretty and it's less of a hazard.

2. Don't set up the tree until just a few days before Christmas. Keep the tree outdoors until ready to install it.

3. Set up the tree in the coolest part of the house, away from radiators, heaters or fireplaces. Stand it in water, which retards the drying out process.

4. Do not use cotton or paper for decorating the tree unless the decorations are flameproof.

5. Do not place electric trains around the tree.

6. Never use candles. Use electric lighting sets only. Inspect every socket and wire to make sure the set is in good condition. Discard sets with frayed wiring. When buying new sets, look for the Underwriters' Laboratories, incorporated label or marker.

7. Use flame-proof or fire-proof decorations of glass or metal to decorate your tree.

8. Remove gift wrappings promptly after gifts have been opened.

9. Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning tree lights off and on.

10. Don't leave lights burning when no one is in the house. From time to time, inspect the tree and see whether any of the needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so, change the position of the lights.

11. When needles start falling, take the tree down and discard it outdoors.

* * *

FOR CHRISTMAS-TIME parties at home, school or church, Chief Lindauer made these suggestions:

1. Don't locate the Christmas tree near any stairway or elevator shaft which would provide a draft.

2. The tree should not block a door or any exits.

3. An inspection of the tree should be made every day by someone in authority to determine whether the tree should be left up for a longer time.

4. Be sure that plenty of ashtrays are provided for smokers. Don't allow smoking near the Christmas tree.

5. Be sure that all decorations throughout the room have been flame-proofed.

6. Avoid using net or gauze-like fabrics for dresses, costumes or children's clothes. Loosely woven fabrics easily catch fire.

7. If loosely woven costumes have to be worn, they should be flame-proofed with the following solution:

Mix 9 ounces of borax and 4 ounces of boric acid in a gallon of water. Dip the fabric into this solution, wring by hand, then hang to dry. This flame-proofing method must be repeated after each laundering of the garment.

West Pottsgrove Board Postpones Meeting

A meeting of the West Pottsgrove commissioners, originally scheduled for last night, has been postponed until Dec. 16.

The announcement was made by President Peter Dori, who said the postponement was made to give the board a chance to complete its business before the meeting, which will be the last of the year. Several members were out of town and unable to meet as scheduled, he added.

noon, Keyser said. —

The union official went on to say that they are waiting word from Federal Mediation and Conciliation men before another parley is scheduled.

Keyser said the meeting might be called before the end of this week.

* * *

THE strike started on Nov. 23 after the expiration of a two-year contract with the company.

Union officials are asking for a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase for all workers and a pension plan.

Up to the start of negotiation, the company was offering five cents an hour. A company pension plan was refused.

COUNTY AGENT IS VISITOR AS GRANGE MEETS

Varied Opinions Expressed On Outlook for 1954

Alvin Funk and Clarence Hedrick said they thought production of milk, eggs and poultry would be good next year.

Earl Bechtel said that prices of things farmers have to buy would probably be higher, though, and Christian Hunsicker predicted higher feed prices.

In general, the sentiments of the four speakers on the "forecast for '54" program were cautiously optimistic.

R. G. Waltz county agent, was a visitor at the meeting. He answered questions about farm methods and introduced his assistant, Marion Deppen.

Waltz also described the recent National convention of county agents held in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Harold Allebach was in charge of the program in the absence of Lecturer Ernest Yocum.

Ralph Spickard, new Grange master, presided at the business meeting. Fifty Grangers attended.

It was announced that a meeting of county agriculturists will be held at Hendricks hall, Collegeville, next Tuesday. It will be a noon dinner meeting, with all area farmers invited.

KNAUSE —

Wells will look into the situation.

* * *

THE PARTY members also discussed the police situation and especially the request made this week that three new policemen be added to the police department.

The concensus seemed to be that a thorough survey of the police department will have to be made before any steps are made to enlarge it.

The GOP'ers also discussed the recent budget requests from the fire companies, in which the three major companies asked for $16,000 each for 1954. Nothing definite was decided in their case, however.

Knause, who will take over as the new council president in January, has served in council nine years, two regular four-year terms and one year of an unexpired term.

* * *

DURING the past four years he has served as chairman of the finance committee and in every one of those years he successfully balanced the budget without raising taxes.

At one time or other, he has worked on every one of the council's committees.

A resident of 344 Rohland avenue, he has been a resident of Pottstown for 29 years, having been born in New Hanover.

The new councilman from the Ninth ward, replacing Charles Grubb is P. William Marshall.

* * *

MARSHALL is 33 years old, married and has two sons, aged nine and seven. He lives at 20 West Fifth street.

He is a graduate of Pottstown High school, class of '38; graduate of Lehigh university, was an industrial engineer for the Aluminum Company of America at New Kensington, for two years and served two years in the Merchant Marines.

He is now superintendent of the Zinc Casting and Cleaning division of the Doehler-Jarvis company.

It will mark his debut into the field of politics.

The promotion of Knause from head of the finance committee to council president leaves the important position of finance chairman open.

So far no one has been named to the post but it is believed that the job will go to either Wilbert O'Dell, councilman from the Eighth ward or Edward H. Hunnicutt, same ward.

DRIVER —

* * *

JONES gave this account of his unnerving experience:

He was in his truck, which had both its folding doors opened because he had several deliveries to make along that stretch of road.

As he was driving along slowly, the bare-headed man in the jacket or short coat "flagged me down and asked me the directions to Pottstown.

"I pulled off the road, and as I was talking to this guy, this other fellow walked into this (the right) side of the truck, and as he came in, he shut the ignition off and pulled the key out."

* * *

"I GRABBED for the key, but I was too late. Even then, I wasn't expecting a hold-up."

As the robber on his right pushed in the switch that turned off the headlights, the robber behind him on the driver's side grabbed Jones by one arm.

The driver's seat swiveled around.

Before I could do anything, the guy behind me had grabbed me by both arms, then he grabbed for my wallet quick. He actually threw it toward the other fellow, but it landed in that egg-box there (on the floor of the front seat).

The swarthy man in the black leather jacket picked up the wallet and emptied it of Jones' own money - - 11 $1 bills and a $5 bill.

* * *

JONES gave them $5 in bills belonging to the dairy, $2 of his own money and $4 in change.

The man behind Jones stuck something in his back, then had Jones take off his belt. He tied Jones' arms behind him with it.

The swarthy man in the black leather jacket told him, "Don't move for five or ten minutes, or you'll be sorry."

The two men then ran to their car, which had been parked a few dozen yards ahead of the Meadow Brook truck, on the wrong side of the road, facing Pottstown.

* * *

THE TWO MEN piled into the back seat. "The car door wasn't even shut before they were off," Jones said. "They didn't put the lights on until they were just about out of sight."

Without waiting for the five or ten minutes to go by, Jones tried to free himself. "I squirmed a couple times—they hadn't tied the belt too tight—and I got an arm free."

After he pulled off the belt, he went to the nearest house with a 'phone, that of Earl Bell. From there, he called Reading State police.

Despite his harrowing experince, Jones stayed on his route during the day.

Fire Chief Orders Flame - Proofing of Public Yule Trim

All Christmas decorations in public places in Pottstown must be flame-proofed, it wa announced yesterday by Borough Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, who also suggested fire-safety rules for local homes.

He said the best and simplest way to flame-proof a tree is to saturate the tree with water glass, which is available at drug stores. Spraying is preferable to brushing the water glass.

Chief Lindauer noted that the past year, there wasn't a single Christmas-time fire in the borough, and he said this year's record can be as good if decorations in public places are flame-proofed and if householders follow these rules for use of trees.

1. Choose a small tree instead of a large one. A small tree can be just as pretty and it's less of a hazard.

2. Don't set up the tree until just a few days before Christmas. Keep the tree outdoors until ready to install it.

3. Set up the tree in the coolest part of the house, away from radiators, heaters or fireplaces. Stand it in water, which retards the drying out process.

4. Do not use cotton or paper for decorating the tree unless the decorations are flameproof.

5. Do not place electric trains around the tree.

6. Never use candles. Use electric lighting sets only. Inspect every socket and wire to make sure the set is in good condition. Discard sets with frayed wiring. When buying new sets, look for the Underwriters' Laboratories, incorporated label or marker.

7. Use flame-proof or fire-proof decorations of glass or metal to decorate your tree.

8. Remove gift wrappings promptly after gifts have been opened.

9. Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning tree lights off and on.

10. Don't leave lights burning when no one is in the house. From time to time, inspect the tree and see whether any of the needles near the lights have started to turn brown. If so, change the position of the lights.

11. When needles start falling, take the tree down and discard it outdoors.

* * *

FOR CHRISTMAS-TIME parties at home, school or church, Chief Lindauer made these suggestions:

1. Don't locate the Christmas tree near any stairway or elevator shaft which would provide a draft.

2. The tree should not block a door or any exits.

3. An inspection of the tree should be made every day by someone in authority to determine whether the tree should be left up for a longer time.

4. Be sure that plenty of ashtrays are provided for smokers. Don't allow smoking near the Christmas tree.

5. Be sure that all decorations throughout the room have been flame-proofed.

6. Avoid using net or gauze-like fabrics for dresses, costumes or children's clothes. Loosely woven fabrics easily catch fire.

7. If loosely woven costumes have to be worn, they should be flame-proofed with the following solution:

Mix 9 ounces of borax and 4 ounces of boric acid in a gallon of water. Dip the fabric into this solution, wring by hand, then hang to dry. This flame-proofing method must be repeated after each laundering of the garment.

West Pottsgrove Board Postpones Meeting

A meeting of the West Pottsgrove commissioners, originally scheduled for last night, has been postponed until Dec. 16.

The announcement was made by President Peter Dori, who said the postponement was made to give the board a chance to complete its business before the meeting, which will be the last of the year. Several members were out of town and unable to meet as scheduled, he added.

The union official went on to say that they are waiting word from Federal Mediation and Conciliation men before another parley is scheduled.

Keyser said the meeting might be called before the end of this week.

THE strike started on Nov. 23 after the expiration of a two-year contract with the company.

22-Year-Old Mother Attacked and Strangled to Death As Husband, Tied Hand and Foot, Listens to Her Screams

HOLBROOK, Ariz., Dec. 2 (AP)—A 22-year-old mother was tortured, raped and choked to death in a house trailer at the edge of US Highway 66 today as her husband lay tied hand and foot and her 2-year-old son slept undisturbed.

The husband, after listening to his wife's anguished screams for five hours, broke loose and shot her assailant in the stomach.

Mrs. Betty Faye Allen of Wattsburg, Pa., died on the floor of the 30-foot, four-room trailer in which she and her family were traveling to California.

Her hair and body had been burned by her torturer. A sheet was knotted around her neck. Her hands and feet were tied.

Her husband, Raymond, 25, a machine tool repairman, was shocked into a state of near collapse by the night of horror.

* * *

A CORONER'S JURY named Carl J. Folk, 60, of Clovis, N. M., a 6-foot, 215-pound carnival owner as the killer. He is in a hospital here with the bullet wound.

The sheriff's office said Folk is the same man who tied a girl to a tree and raped her in New Mexico in 1949. He was committed to an insane asylum and later released, officers added.

The Allens stopped for the night 14½ miles east of here, ate at a cafe and retired to their trailer a few hundred yards away.

About 10 p. m., Allen related in broken tones at a corner's inquest, a man entered the unlocked trailer door and said "this is a holdup. Tell me where the money is and everything will be all right."

It was learned later that the robber was carrying a toy gun.

Allen told the intruder that he could find $19 in his trouser pockets.

Then the holdupman tied Allen and his wife.

Allen said the man hooked the trailer to the pickup truck and drove a short distance. Then he returned and attacked Mrs. Allen. The man started to drive the trailer away a second time and bogged down in a ditch.

Again he came back to the trailer and began torturing Mrs. Allen.

"I thought he must be burning her with newspapers soaked in kerosene," Allen said. "It made a big flame."

"All the time I was tied up my wife was screaming," Allen said.

About 5:45 a. m. Allen freed his feet and stumbled from the trailer to the highway, his hands tied. Folk still was in the trailer.

Allen hailed a passing truck driver, mumbled "there's trouble in my trailer" and headed back to the trailer.

The driver, C. J. Rice of Wichita, Kan., stopped two other drivers and they followed Allen.

As they neared the trailer, Allen fired six shots as Folk ran around the corner of the trailer. Folk continued 200 yards down the road before falling.

"I thought I hit him six times," Allen said later.

"But my only thought was to get back to the trailer. I tried to give my wife artificial respiration but it was no use."

She had died of strangulation about the time her husband escaped from the trailer.

22-Year-Old Mother Attacked and Strangled to Death As Husband, Tied Hand and Foot, Listens to Her Screams

HOLBROOK, Ariz., Dec. 2 (AP)—A 22-year-old mother was tortured, raped and choked to death in a house trailer at the edge of US Highway 66 today as her husband lay tied hand and foot and her 2-year-old son slept undisturbed.

The husband, after listening to his wife's anguished screams for five hours, broke loose and shot her assailant in the stomach.

Mrs. Betty Faye Allen of Wattsburg, Pa., died on the floor of the 30-foot, four-room trailer in which she and her family were traveling to California.

Her hair and body had been burned by her torturer. A sheet was knotted around her neck. Her hands and feet were tied.

Her husband, Raymond, 25, a machine tool repairman, was shocked into a state of near collapse by the night of horror.

* * *

A CORONER'S JURY named Carl J. Folk, 60, of Clovis, N. M., a 6-foot, 215-pound carnival owner as the killer. He is in a hospital here with the bullet wound.

The sheriff's office said Folk is the same man who tied a girl to a tree and raped her in New Mexico in 1949. He was committed to an insane asylum and later released, officers added.

The Allens stopped for the night 14½ miles east of here, ate at a cafe and retired to their trailer a few hundred yards away.

About 10 p. m., Allen related in broken tones at a corner's inquest, a man entered the unlocked trailer door and said "this is a holdup. Tell me where the money is and everything will be all right."

It was learned later that the robber was carrying a toy gun.

Allen told the intruder that he could find $19 in his trouser pockets.

Then the holdupman tied Allen and his wife.

Allen said the man hooked the trailer to the pickup truck and drove a short distance. Then he returned and attacked Mrs. Allen. The man started to drive the trailer away a second time and bogged down in a ditch.

Again he came back to the trailer and began torturing Mrs. Allen.

"I thought he must be burning her with newspapers soaked in kerosene," Allen said. "It made a big flame."

"All the time I was tied up my wife was screaming," Allen said.

About 5:45 a. m. Allen freed his feet and stumbled from the trailer to the highway, his hands tied. Folk still was in the trailer.

Allen hailed a passing truck driver, mumbled "there's trouble in my trailer" and headed back to the trailer.

The driver, C. J. Rice of Wichita, Kan., stopped two other drivers and they followed Allen.

As they neared the trailer, Allen fired six shots as Folk ran around the corner of the trailer. Folk continued 200 yards down the road before falling.

"I thought I hit him six times," Allen said later.

"But my only thought was to get back to the trailer. I tried to give my wife artificial respiration but it was no use."

She had died of strangulation about the time her husband escaped from the trailer.

22-Year-Old Mother Attacked and Strangled to Death As Husband, Tied Hand and Foot, Listens to Her Screams

HOLBROOK, Ariz., Dec. 2 (AP)—A 22-year-old mother was tortured, raped and choked to death in a house trailer at the edge of US Highway 66 today as her husband lay tied hand and foot and her 2-year-old son slept undisturbed.

The husband, after listening to his wife's anguished screams for five hours, broke loose and shot her assailant in the stomach.

Mrs. Betty Faye Allen of Wattsburg, Pa., died on the floor of the 30-foot, four-room trailer in which she and her family were traveling to California.

Her hair and body had been burned by her torturer. A sheet was knotted around her neck. Her hands and feet were tied.

Her husband, Raymond, 25, a machine tool repairman, was shocked into a state of near collapse by the night of horror.

* * *

A CORONER'S JURY named Carl J. Folk, 60, of Clovis, N. M., a 6-foot, 215-pound carnival owner as the killer. He is in a hospital here with the bullet wound.

The sheriff's office said Folk is the same man who tied a girl to a tree and raped her in New Mexico in 1949. He was committed to an insane asylum and later released, officers added.

The Allens stopped for the night 14½ miles east of here, ate at a cafe and retired to their trailer a few hundred yards away.

About 10 p. m., Allen related in broken tones at a corner's inquest, a man entered the unlocked trailer door and said "this is a holdup. Tell me where the money is and everything will be all right."

It was learned later that the robber was carrying a toy gun.

Allen told the intruder that he could find $19 in his trouser pockets.

Then the holdupman tied Allen and his wife.

Allen said the man hooked the trailer to the pickup truck and drove a short distance. Then he returned and attacked Mrs. Allen. The man started to drive the trailer away a second time and bogged down in a ditch.

Again he came back to the trailer and began torturing Mrs. Allen.

"I thought he must be burning her with newspapers soaked in kerosene," Allen said. "It made a big flame."

"All the time I was tied up my wife was screaming," Allen said.

About 5:45 a. m. Allen freed his feet and stumbled from the trailer to the highway, his hands tied. Folk still was in the trailer.

Allen hailed a passing truck driver, mumbled "there's trouble in my trailer" and headed back to the trailer.

The driver, C. J. Rice of Wichita, Kan., stopped two other drivers and they followed Allen.

As they neared the trailer, Allen fired six shots as Folk ran around the corner of the trailer. Folk continued 200 yards down the road before falling.

"I thought I hit him six times," Allen said later.

"But my only thought was to get back to the trailer. I tried to give my wife artificial respiration but it was no use."

She had died of strangulation about the time her husband escaped from the trailer.

LODGE DEMANDS FULL CHECK OF RED ATROCITIES

Vishinsky Calls Proposal 11th-Hour Approval 'Demagogic'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 2 (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. demanded before the UN Assembly today that Moscow let the international committee of the Red Cross make a free and full check of alleged Red atrocities in Korea.

He also charged that Gen. Nam Il, commander of the North Korean Army, masterminded the Koje prison riots the past year at the same time he was carrying on truce negotiations with the UN Command at Panmunjom.

Soviet reaction was swift.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, denounced the chief American delegate's proposal for a full investigation as an "eleventh hour approach, obviously of a demagogic nature." He said the Russians had attempted to have a commission established in 1950 to investigate American atrocities as charged by the Russians, but the Security council refused to do so.

As to Nam Il, Vishinsky said the charge was "really absurd." He called on Lodge to support his allegation.

The crossfire of words between Lodge and Vishinsky delayed a vote on a five-power resolution which would have the Asembly condemn Red atrocities in Korea.

* * *

THE ASSEMBLY adjourned for the day with expectation of voting tomorrow at 10:30 A. M. The resolution will be carried, its backers said, but they were fearful it might not get full support from some of the neutral bloc; some of its members privately have deplored that the atrocities case ever was brought into the Asesmbly at this time.

Vishinsky told the Assembly yesterday that Lodge had not proved his charges of atrocities and that the whole American case was "bosh."

Lodge answered that in that event Vishinsky should be glad to give the international committee of the Red Cross the right to travel freely throughout all Korea and the Chinese mainland on an investigation.

Lodge said the Reds had closed every prison camp to the Red Cross during the war and the secrets of the camps were just beginning to come out with the arrival home of former prisoners.

Big Four Talks, European Army Plan Top Agenda at Bermuda Sessions

TUCKER'S TOWN, Bermuda, Dec. 2 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill bucked through an Atlantic storm aboard the stratocruiser Canopus and landed in Bermuda's sunshine today to attend the Western Big Three conference he hopes will bring the world closer to lasting peace.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Lord Cherwell, former chief of Britain's atomic energy development work, were in Churchill's party of 28

Premier Joseph Laniel of France took off from Paris in an Air Constellatoin a few hours later with his foreign Minister, George Bidault, and a 19-man delegation for the talks opening Friday at the mid-ocean club. The French will arrive tomorrow.

President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and nine other American officials expect to get in Friday. Five days of discussion of world problems are slated at the club, ringed by barbed wire and heavily guarded by British and American service men. Russia's suggestion for a Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Berlin looms as a major topic.

An authoritative source said the President hopes to win France's ratification of the six-nation European Army plan, to include West German troops, with an assurance the United States would maintain its present "combat effectiveness" in Europe.

CHURCHILL, 79, the past Monday, is the host for sessions which it is estimated will cost Britain 80,000 pounds ($224,000). He looked pink and cheerful as he stepped from the silvery Canopus, a US-built British Overseas Airways plane that carried Queen Elizabeth II to Bermuda at the start of her world tour earlier this month. Gov. Sir Alexander Hood and US Consul General Robert B. Streeper greeted him.

The plane had breasted bitter gales today along the route from Gander, Nfld., to the US-leased Kindley field air base here. The Canopus flew much of the way above 20,000 feet.

Churchill and his associates left London last night just before midnight. They spent an hour at Gander early today for a refueling and a check on the plane. The storm, which buffeted small craft along the Canadian coast, was one that hit Bermuda yesterday with a record rainfall of 3½ inches in an hour.

Operation Discloses Boy's 'Included Twin'

DAYVILLE, Ore., Dec. 2 (AP)—Robert Allen Hancock, ten months old, is another of the boys with an "included twin." Six weeks ago a sureon removed from his abdomen a growth described as the intended start of his twin.

A similar report from Hereford, England, Monday, which mentioned that there had been a case in Algeria, too, prompted Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hancock to tell today of their small son's experience.

X rays, taken when the infant appeared suffering from constant gas pains, disclosed the unusual internal growth. Operations on Oct. 17 and 24 at Portland's Providence hospital removed the growth which, but for some mischance in early development, would have been Robert's twin.

Robert is alert and doing well, his parents report. He has two sisters and a brother.

STAFF CHIEFS OPPOSE CHANGE IN DEFENSE PLAN

Group Takes 'Interim Look' At Military Picture

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Adm Arthur Radford disclosed tonight the new joint chifs of staff are flatly opposed to any sudden and drastic change in the National Defense system, believing the best plans will come by evolution.

The chairman said that what the JCS has been doing is taking an "interim look" at the military picture while planng a long term program

He made no mentino of the "new look" which the Administration ordered after it had named a new slate of members for the joint chiefs organization to succeed the former members whose ouster was demanded by some powerful members of Congress.

In an address prepared for a meeting of the American Ordnance association here. Radford for the first time publicly discussed the objectives of the new joint chiefs organization.

It was Radford's second speech of the day. This afternoon he spoke to a conference of US military academy students at West Point, N. Y., telling them that the "threat of war has not diminished."

In his talk here tonight Radford reviewed the continuing military threat of Russia; said it was within the power of a "small group of men in the Kremlin" to decide on a shooting war; noted the Russians have a three-prong system for gaining objectives — politico-economic, military and psychological -propaganda — and that if one is turned back another is used. Then he announced:

"In view of these, and other planning factors, the new joint chiefs of staff considered it absolutely mandatory that we not make any recommendations for radical changes—especially not on any overnight basis.

178 Freight Handlers Strike Two Warehouses

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2 (AP)—About 178 freight handlers at two warehouses of the Pittsburgh and Lake Eire railroad struck without warning today, a spokesman for the P and LE said.

Prisoners Take Notes As Officers Give Explanations

PANMUNJOM, Thursday, Dec. 3 (AP)—Allied examiners were drawing a blank again today in efforts to win back a group of 30 South Korean soldiers from Communist indoctrination.

The first five South Koreans refused to accept repatriation and went back to their Red camp.

Today's group were more talkative than yesterday and countered Republic of Korea officers making the explanations with rapid-fire questions, note taking and arguments.

One of the interviewed captives took six pages of notes while the explainer read from a prepared text promising all repatriates their soldier back pay, awards, promotions and an amnesty if they returned home.

* * *

SIMILAR explanations failed to win back a single one of the first 30 South Koreans interviewed yesterday. In all, 328 South Koreans, 22 Americans and one Briton have refused repatriation and must listen to explanations by their countrymen aimed at coaxing them home.

The South Koreans arrived today dressed in dark blue Communist uniforms and carrying blanket rolls holding all their possessions. They were prepared to go either way, north or south.

The prisoners marched quietly. There was none of the passionate outbursts which marked the seven days of explanations the past month by the Communists.

On the second day of the long-delayed Allied interviews, there were indications that the explainers may turn their attention to the one British and 22 US prisoners sooner than expected.

A high US officer said a time table by which the Americans would not be reached until all the reluctant 328 South Koreans are interviewed was "not inflexible."

President Eisenhower Backs Dulles Rebuff of McCarthy on Policy Issue

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower today strongly endorsed Secretary of State Dulles' rebuff to Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) on the issue of US foreign policy and warned against any swing toward "coercion" in dealing with America's Allies.

Declaring that unity among free nations is "our only hope for survival" in the global struggle with Soviet Russia, Eisenhower told a crowded news conference:

"I am in full accord with the statements made yesterday by Secretary Dulles in his press conference.

"I would like to add this comment to what he said: The easiest thing to do with great power is to abuse it—to use it to excess."

McCarthy had no immediate comment on the President's statement.

* * *

THE SENATOR had previously indicated he might have a news conference later today, but after reading a copy of Eisenhower's remarks, McCarthy told newsmen he wanted to study it further.

"Perhaps I will wait and give out a statement tomorrow morning," he said, adding that he would probably read it via television.

Once again the President avoided a direct, personal crackdown on the controversial Wisconsin senator Like Dulles, he did not mention McCarthy by name.

But Eisenhower was emphatic in opposing McCarthy's views on the proper way to conduct foreign policy — views which Dulles assailed yesterday as an "arrogant, blustering and domineering" approach.

"This most powerful of the free nations must not permit itself to grow weary of the processes of negotiation and adjustment that are fundamental to freedom," the President said.

"If it should turn impatiently to coercion of other free nations, our brand of coercion, as far as our friends are concerned, would be a mark of the imperialist rather than the leader."

McCarthy had complained in a nationwide radio-TV broadcast on Nov. 24 that the Administration was sending "perfumed notes." Among other things, McCarthy demanded a "blockade" of Red China to be carried out by notifying Britain and other Allies that American aid would be cut off if they continue trading with the Chinese Communists.

Dulles, in hitting back at McCarthy, said the burden of that type of criticism was that "we spoke too kindly to our Allies . . . instead of using threats and intimidations to compel them to do our bidding."

The secretary said such criticism "attacks the very heart of US foreign policy."

Ike's Press Conference Is Dominated By Man Who Wasn't There Theme

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Some Presidential news conferences are dominated by a single theme. Often it's an event, sometimes it's an individual.

Largely because of its buildup, this was true of the conference President Eisenhower held today.

The dominating theme was the man who wasn't there, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis).

The stage for today's drama was set yesterday by Secretary of Dulles. Without mentioning McCarthy by name, Dulles disagreed with him completely on some of his views on international affairs.

* * *

WOULD EISENHOWER back up, or away from, Dulles? The banner headline in the Washington Times-Herald pretty well summed up reporters' feelings:

"Today: Ike vs. McCarthy."

Eisenhower was a couple of minutes late—that's unusual for him—and he had a few things to get off his chest before submitting to questions.

He talked briefly of the Bermuda conference, and then, turning to the McCarthy question, he made what should be the understatement of 1953.

Some of you may have noticed, he told reporters, the headlines in the papers. Which, of course, we certainly had.

Eisenhower said he was going to read his statement, and this would be his last word on the subject.

He got a laugh, unintentionally, when he said he had copies prepared and that we wouldn't have to take notes.

You will get this paper outside, the President said, and you can use it for any purpose you see fit.

Then he read: "I am in full accord with the statements made yesterday by Secretary Dulles . . ."

He read on to the end of the page and a half text. And that was that.

Sen. James Duff Backs President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—US Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa) said he agrees with what President Eisenhower had to say today about criticism of US foreign policy.

One of the first in Congress to comment on the President's remarks at his press conference, Duff said:

"Under the Constitution and the historical precedents in this Nation, the President of the United States is the chief organ and spokesman for the foreign policies of the United States.

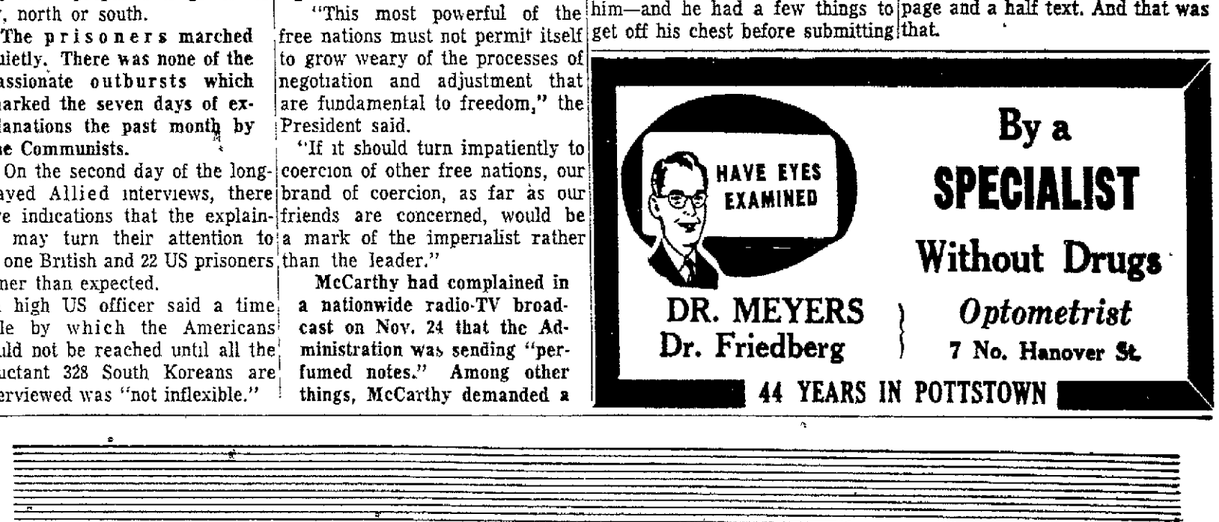
Cadillac



Come In and Order One...Today!

Of course, any day is a wonderful day for stepping up to Cadillac.

When the magic moment arrives in a man's life when he feels entitled to the "car of cars," he should make the move without hesitation—regardless of year, or season, or any other consideration.

But we do feel, in all honesty, that the motorist who finds himself in that happy circumstance this fall is particularly fortunate.

For Cadillac has never offered so many wonderful things, in such abundant measure, as it does today.

It is supremely beautiful—with grace and dignity and majesty that set it instantly apart from the rest of the world's motor cars.

Its performance is simply breath-taking—even when measured against Cadillac's own extraordinary standards. And the car is luxurious and distinctive and pride-inspiring far beyond its illustrious predecessors.

In addition to all this, the current Cadillac creation is unbelievably practical to own and economical to operate. The lowest-priced Cadillac, for instance, now costs less than twenty-two different models of other makes of motor cars manufactured in America.

As if this were not sufficient to set it apart, a Cadillac car—according to an authoritative study of used car prices—may be expected to return a greater percentage of its owner's original investment at the time of resale than any other motor car in the land!

So—if you are considering a Cadillac for yourself and your family—come in and order one today!

Declaring that unity among free nations is "our only hope for survival" in the global struggle with Soviet Russia, Eisenhower told a crowded news conference:

"I am in full accord with the statements made yesterday by Secretary Dulles in his press conference.

"I would like to add this comment to what he said: The easiest thing to do with great power is to abuse it—to use it to excess."

McCarthy had no immediate comment on the President's statement.

* * *

THE SENATOR had previously indicated he might have a news conference later today, but after reading a copy of Eisenhower's remarks, McCarthy told newsmen he wanted to study it further.

"Perhaps I will wait and give out a statement tomorrow morning," he said, adding that he would probably read it via television.

Once again the President avoided a direct, personal crackdown on the controversial Wisconsin senator. Like Dulles, he did not mention McCarthy by name.

But Eisenhower was emphatic in opposing McCarthy's views on the proper way to conduct foreign policy — views which Dulles assailed yesterday as an "arrogant, blustering and domineering" approach.

"This most powerful of the free nations must not permit itself to grow weary of the processes of negotiation and adjustment that are fundamental to freedom," the President said.

"If it should turn impatiently to coercion of other free nations, our brand of coercion, as far as our friends are concerned, would be a mark of the imperialist rather than the leader."

McCarthy had complained in a nationwide radio-TV broadcast on Nov. 24 that the Administration was sending "perfumed notes." Among other things, McCarthy demanded a "blockade" of Red China to be carried out by notifying Britain and other Allies that American aid would be cut off if they continue trading with the Chinese Communists.

Dulles, in hitting back at McCarthy, said the burden of that type of criticism was that "we spoke too kindly to our Allies . . . instead of using threats and intimidations to compel them to do our bidding."

The secretary said such criticism "attacks the very heart of US foreign policy."

Ike's Press Conference Is Dominated By Man Who Wasn't There Theme

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—Some Presidential news conferences are dominated by a single theme. Often it's an event, sometimes it's an individual.

Largely because of its buildup, this was true of the conference President Eisenhower held today.

The dominating theme was the man who wasn't there, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis).

The stage for today's drama was set yesterday by Secretary of Dulles. Without mentioning McCarthy by name, Dulles disagreed with him completely on some of his views on international affairs.

* * *

WOULD EISENHOWER back up, or away from, Dulles? The banner headline in the Washington Times-Herald pretty well summed up reporters' feelings:

"Today: Ike vs. McCarthy."

Eisenhower was a couple of minutes late—that's unusual for him—and he had a few things to get off his chest before submitting to questions.

He talked briefly of the Bermuda conference, and then, turning to the McCarthy question, he made what should be the understatement of 1953.

Some of you may have noticed, he told reporters, the headlines in the papers. Which, of course, we certainly had.

Eisenhower said he was going to read his statement, and this would be his last word on the subject.

He got a laugh, unintentionally, when he said he had copies prepared and that we wouldn't have to take notes.

You will get this paper outside, the President said, and you can use it for any purpose you see fit.

Then he read: "I am in full accord with the statements made yesterday by Secretary Dulles . . ."

He read on to the end of the page and a half text. And that was that.

Sen. James Duff Backs President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—US Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa) said he agrees with what President Eisenhower had to say today about crticism of US foreign policy.

One of the first in Congress to comment on the President's remarks at his press conference, Duff said:

"Under the Constitution and the historical precedents in this Nation, the President of the United States is the chief organ and spokesman for the foreign policies of the United States.

Cadillac

Come In and Order One ... Today!

Of course, any day is a wonderful day for stepping up to Cadillac.

When the magic moment arrives in a man's life when he feels entitled to the "car of cars," he should make the move without hesitation—regardless of year, or season, or any other consideration.

But we do feel, in all honesty, that the motorist who finds himself in that happy circumstance this fall is particularly fortunate.

For Cadillac has never offered so many wonderful things, in such abundant measure, as it does today.

It is supremely beautiful—with grace and dignity and majesty that set it instantly apart from the rest of the world's motor cars.

Its performance is simply breath-taking—even when measured against Cadillac's own extraordinary standards. And the car is luxurious and distinctive and pride-inspiring far beyond its illustrious predecessors.

In addition to all this, the current Cadillac creation is unbelievably practical to own and economical to operate. The lowest-priced Cadillac, for instance, now costs less than twenty-two different models of other makes of motor cars manufactured in America.

As if this were not sufficient to set it apart, a Cadillac car—according to an authoritative study of used car prices—may be expected to return a greater percentage of its owner's original investment at the time of resale than any other motor car in the land!

So—if you are considering a Cadillac for yourself and your family—come in and order one today!

State Approves New School Site; Committee Okays Driver Training

A driver training program will be initiated in the Boyertown Joint High school after the holidays, the joint committee decided at its meeting last night.

About 30 pupils can be accompanied in the course during the remainder of the year, at a cost of about $18 a pupil. Instruction will include both classroom and dual control auto varieties.

Next year, between 100 and 150 pupils can be accommodated in the course, which will cost about $2000 a year.

High on the committee's list of worries is the problem which will be posed when a flux of about 200 pupils from the townships' Seventh grades crowds into Boyertown next year. The move will follow an order by the State that all pupils above Sixth grade status come to Boyertown.

At present there are over 1100 pupils in the Boyertown Joint High school; next year, about 1400 are expected. A proposal to hold double sessions is being studied.

Cost of opening the street is estimated at about $20,000, for which the committe believes it will be reimbursed by the State, if plans to open the street are carried through.

President of the committee, Robert Harbster, presided.

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy — Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

You'll probably recognize a lot of these former employes of the Leibowitz Shirt factory on Beech street if you are a longtime area resident. The photo was taken in 1929 and belongs to Mrs. Olga Lesik, 518 East Race street, Stowe.

Mrs. John McCoy Honored at Shower

Mrs. John S. McCoy was surprised at a baby shower honoring young Timothy John McCoy at the home of Mrs. Richard Schwab, recently.

Friends who were present included Mrs. J. Hause Dewees, Mrs. John Eldridge, Mrs. James D'Arcy, Mrs. John Dougherty, Mrs. Donald Disque, Elizabeth Dewees and Becky and Marilyn Schwab, daughters of the hostess. Mrs. Lewis Weaver and Mrs. Leonard Williams, who were unable to attend, sent gifts.

Among those present were Donnie and Mary Bohn Disque, Andrea Weaver, Barbara Eldridge, Patsy, Billy and Barbara McCreary and Barbara and Idell Headly.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymore Titone and son Adam visited in New York city with Mrs. Titone's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Rice Marks.

Mrs. John S. Ayling, of Chambersburg, spent several days with her daughter's family, Mr and Mrs J. M. George.

Don't Believe All Stories About Women Drivers

LINCOLN, Neb Dec. 2 (AP) — In a report on a survey of 1952 accidents, the Nebraska State Accident Record bureau said men drivers were involved in 84.78 percent of the accidents.

Then it quickly added "the surprisingly large percentage of male drivers should not be viewed with too much alarm. There are no definite figures to prove it, but it is taken for granted that most of the driving in the state is being done by male drivers."

Around the statehouse they give you one guess as to who wrote that report—a male or female.

Decorations, Stories Reflect Spirit Of Christmas in First Grade Room

By ESTHER B. DIENER

The spirit of Christmas is very evident in our First grade room. A discussion followed the reading of the Christmas story. Plans for decorations and arrangements of our rooms were planned.

One interest center now contains a manger scene, an angel, a small white Bible, and a book with the story and pictures about the Christmas manger. A story viewer and colored slides also tell the Christmas story.

The whilte angel silhouettes on the windows remind us of the angels who brought the message of good news to the shepherds. The stars help us to remember how the shepherds followed the star that led to the manger.

The community Christmas project is growing daily. Many paths lead from the homes to the churches. We find many little cars of all colors parked outside the churches. We pretend the people are in church singing Christmas carols.

* * *

MANY trees add to the beauty and comfort of our growing community.

We are looking forward to December 18, when we will all take part in a Christmas program and Santa Claus arrives to greet us.

Landing of Pilgrims Studied by Pupils

By BRANDT HOLLINGER

The past week in the Fourth grade we learned that Plymouth Rock is in Massachusetts. We also learned that the Pilgrims are supposed to have landed on it when they came to this country on the Mayflower.

The Pilgrims came to this country for religious freedom. The Pilgrims made a long hard journey to this country and landed here on December 21, 1620.

Mothers Club Plans Bazaar for Children

TRAPPE—Mrs. Donald Yerkes, Corr., Phone Schwenksville 4972. George Clarke Jr. and John E. Hartman Jr., Del., Phone Collegeville 7516.

The November meeting of the Collegeville - Trappe Elementary Mothers club was held recently at the Fifth avenue school. Mrs. William Youngblood, club president, was in charge of the business session at which time it was decided that the December meeting, which would fall between the holidays, will be postponed and in its place a game bazaar will be held for the children.

Details for the bazaar will be published at a later date. Plans for a sunshine committee were also discussed.

Mrs. Ephriam Hallman was appointed projects committee chairman and will appreciate receiving suggestions ffom members. A thank you note was read for the five dollars which was presented to each of the elementary teachers after the Oct. meeting to be used for room expenses at their discretion. The decision was also made not to serve refreshments at the meetings except on special occasions.

The club voted to give a prize to the best artist in the fifth and sixth grades for the Christmas paintings to be done on the school windows prior to the holidays.

Fourth Grade Holds Book Week Display

By PEGGY ANN NEIMAN

National Book Week lasted from November 15 to 21. In our room, Grade 4, we had a display. We had many books on a table in the back of the room. Many of the books were borrowed from the Pottstown Public Library.

The motto for Book Week was "Reading Is Fun."

ON DISPLAY TODAY—THE NEW

1954 LINCOLN

newly designed for modern living-completely powered for modern driving

IT'S HERE. The newest, most beautiful model of the car that is taking America's motorists into a new era. It is the incomparable new Lincoln for 1954—the one fine car which marks the growing trend to modern living on wheels. In fact, Lincoln fine-car sales have doubled in two short years!

There is distinctive new beauty wherever you look—a new bumper-grille combination, new rear end styling highlighted by new taillights, a longer, lower look all over. Now—you can choose from a wonderful array of colors inside and out, from yellow to black or royal red. You can have rich nylons, broadcloths, gabardines; you can even have genuine leather in four-door sedans!

As for performance, you've never experienced anything like Lincoln's 1954 high-compression engine. One of the world's most efficient power plants, it has been improved with a new 4-barrel carburetor. You'll never believe that an automobile can do so much with so little effort until you try Lincoln's V-8 engine, its new oversize brakes and optional power features. Power steering, power brakes, and 4-way power seat can be yours for the last word in motoring convenience.

Your eyes can tell you that this new 1954 Lincoln has been wonderfully designed for modern living. But you cannot appreciate the effortless action until you try a Lincoln or a Lincoln Capri yourself. Ask us for a demonstration at your convenience.

Don't miss the big television hit, "TOAST OF THE TOWN" with Ed Sullivan. Sunday evening, 8:00 to 9:00. Station WCAU-TV, Channel 10.

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy — Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

You'll probably recognize a lot of these former employes of the Leibowitz Shirt factory on Beech street if you are a longtime area resident. The photo was taken in 1929 and belongs to Mrs. Olga Lesik, 518 East Race street, Stowe.

Mrs. John McCoy Honored at Shower

BIRCHRUNVILLE—Mrs. W. R. Schwab, corr. Phone Chester Springs 3656, Lile McDonald, del. Phone Eagle 8-5219.

Mrs. John S. McCoy was surprised at a baby shower honoring young Timothy John McCoy at the home of Mrs. Richard Schwab, recently.

Friends who were present included Mrs. J. Hause Dewees, Mrs. John Eldridge, Mrs. James D'Arcy, Mrs. John Dougherty, Mrs. Donald Disque, Elizabeth Dewees and Becky and Marilyn Schwab, daughters of the hostess. Mrs. Lewis Weaver and Mrs. Leonard Williams, who were unable to attend, sent gifts.

Susis Headly celebrated her seventh birthday at a party held in her home recently.

Among those present were Donnie and Mary Bolin Disque, Andrea Weaver, Barbara Eldridge, Patsy, Billy and Barbara McCreary and Barbara and Idell Headly.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymore Titone and son Adam visited in New York city with Mrs. Titone's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Rice Marks.

Mrs. John S. Ayling, of Chambersburg, spent several days with her daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. George.

Don't Believe All Stories About Women Drivers

LINCOLN, Neb. Dec. 2 (AP) — In a report on a survey of 1952 accidents, the Nebraska State Accident Record bureau said men drivers were involved in 84.78 percent of the accidents.

Then it quickly added "the surprisingly large percentage of male drivers should not be viewed with too much alarm. There are no definite figures to prove it, but it is taken for granted that most of the driving in the state is being done by male drivers."

Around the statehouse they give you one guess as to who wrote that report—a male or female.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Photo-Engravers Reject Arbitration, Cut Wage Demands on Papers in Half

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP) — AFL photo-engravers turned down arbitration again today, but cut in half their demands on New York's strikebound daily newspapers. They offered to settle their strike for a $7.50 a week wage-benefits package.

Strike leader Dennis M. Burke took the reduced demands into a meeting with publishers tonight, after commenting:

"If they accept this offer, the papers will be rolling tomorrow. But if they reject our offer, the onus will be on them."

He added that the union negotiators had authority to call off the strike without a membership vote if employers agree to the $7.50.

Meanwhile, 20,000 non-striking employes on the six struck dailies were dropped from the payroll tonight until the return to work. Most of them belong to other unions and have refused to cross photo-engravers' picket lines.

"There will be no pay for those for whom there is no work," the publishers' announcement said, adding:

"This is not a notice of termination of employment affecting accrued benefits or other rights, and must not be construed as such. It is only notice of a temporary period during which there is no work to be performed until normal operations are resumed."

The publishers said the refusal of non-strikers to cross photo-engravers' picket lines was in violation of other unions' contracts with the papers. The statement continued:

"The general action which followed on the part of all the other unions was in every case a violation of an existing contract. It also appears to have resulted from concerted action by all these unions in influencing, persuading or instructing their members not to report for work at all papers concerned."

British Railways officials estimate that 9600 vehicles carry 12 million passengers a day in London.

VIENNA, Austria, Dec. 2 (AP)—The mayor of Salzburg today called on US Army commander Lt. Gen. William H. Arnold for assistance in meeting a serious water shortage in that Austrian Alpine city of 103,000 population.

Arnold ordered Army engineers to turn the entire water supply from nearby Camp Roeder into the Salzburg water mains tonight.

Banquet guests included Charles Wylie, president of the hospital board of directors, and Albert Pollick, hospital administrator.

Mrs. Edward Horn gave the invocation, and the group singing was led by Mrs. John Longaker. Mrs. Jack Wennersten was the accompanist.

During a brief business session conducted by Mrs. Caesar Sarni, president, it was announced that the senior auxiliary and the teenage group would decorate the hospital, Dec. 12.

Beef Benefits Your Budget

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
(Associated Press Food Editor)

Lean beef is the order of the day. Range cattle are coming to market, and thrifty housewives can take advantage of the lean cuts that are more reasonably priced than fat-marbled steaks and roasts.

No one will mind eating lean beef if it's prepared, as in the recipe below, with a delicious sauce and small white onions. When our taste-testers sampled this dish, two of them said it was delightfully like sauerbraten in flavor.

What to serve with this Braised Beef and White Onions? Mashed potatoes are a good choice; so are green peppers cut into eighths and cooked in boiling water only until they are tender-crisp. (A pound of the peppers will give ample portions for four.) Or instead of the peppers, serve snap beans cooked whole and doused with melted butter or margarine, salt and plenty of freshly-ground pepper.

Chances are that with lean beef plentiful, you'll be serving lots of hamburgers. But please don't keep offering them the same old way. Give your family a surprise, be inventive. We'll start you off by suggesting that you divide a pound of chopped beef into four portions; make each portion into a ball; now poke your good strong forefinger down into the center of each. Put finely chopped onion mixed with a little chili sauce, crumbled crisply-cooked bacon, Roquefort cheese or what-have-you down into these holes; mold the meat over the filling into pleasantly rounded patties. Panfry or broil, as you will

BRAISED BEEF WITH WHITE ONIONS

Ingredients: 1½ pounds round steak, 1½ teaspoons kitchen bouquet, 3 tablespoons fat, 1 pound small white onions, 1½ teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1 cup apple juice, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ cup cold water.

Method: Cut meat into 1-inch cubes; place in mixing bowl. Sprinkle with kitchen bouquet; stir until pieces of meat are evenly coated. Melt fat in Dutch oven. Add meat and peeled onions. Cook about 10 minutes, stirring often. Add salt, pepper, nutmeg, parsley and apple juice. Stir, cover and bring to boil. Cook slowly until onions are barely tender, about 30 minutes Blend cornstarch with water until smooth; add to meat. Stir constantly until gravy thickens. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Two Favorite Beef Dishes Good for Small Budgets

Here are two family-approved ways with round steak—long-time favorite dishes geared to satisfy big appetites and small budgets:

1. Beef Steak Pie—Braise round steak cubes and sliced onions in bouillon seasoned lightly with allspice, ginger and paprika. When almost tender, add cubed potatoes and cook until done. Season to taste. Pour into casserole, top with pastry and bake at 450 degrees F. until crust is browned.
2. Stuffed Steak Rolls—Roll individual servings of round steak around bread dressing and fasten with toothpicks. Braise until tender in tomato juice.

SELF-SEALING WAX PAPER

Use self-sealing waxed paper to make covers for your small electric appliances such as a mixer, orange juice squeezer, blender, coffee grinder, toaster or waffle iron. Cut the paper in two pieces that are the shape of the appliance, then simply seal the top edges of the halves and slip the cover over. Thrifty and easy to make, these covers may be changed when necessary, and they'll keep soil and dust off your handy electric kitchen aids.

COLORED COOKIE ICING

If you want to make your holiday cookies festive with a decorative icing, you can do it this way. Sift some confectoners' sugar and measure 1 cup into a bowl; stir just enough water—about 1 tablespoon—into the sugar so the frosting will hold its shape when forced through a pastry tube. Now tint the frosting the desired shade with a few drops of food coloring. If you're not using a pastry tube, thin the frosting with a little more water and spread.

SELF-SEALING WAX PAPER

Use self-sealing waxed paper to make covers for your small electric appliances such as a mixer, orange juice squeezer, blender, coffee grinder, toaster or waffle iron. Cut the paper in two pieces that are the shape of the appliance, then simply seal the top edges of the halves and slip the cover over. Thrifty and easy to make, these covers may be changed when necessary, and they'll keep soil and dust off your handy electric kitchen aids.

COLORED COOKIE ICING

If you want to make your holiday cookies festive with a decorative icing, you can do it this way. Sift some confectoners' sugar and measure 1 cup into a bowl; stir just enough water—about 1 tablespoon—into the sugar so the frosting will hold its shape when forced through a pastry tube. Now tint the frosting the desired shade with a few drops of food coloring. If you're not using a pastry tube, thin the frosting with a little more water and spread.

WRITERS SELECT KERR, RETTEW FOR SECOND TEAM BERTHS

Pottstown High's Ches-Mont league football champions placed two players on the Ches-Mont league writers' all-league first team and two on the second.

Halfback Howie Bedell and end Milt Wensel, both Juniors, were overwhelming favorites for their respective positions and fullback Bill "Reds" Kerr and guard Joe Rettew, Trojan Seniors gained plenty of second team support.

Tackle Bill Fisher, center Jack Babel and halfback Carl Burns were the other Pottstown players to receive honorable mention.

West Chester and Bridgeport prospered with the Warriors getting three first team spots and one second, and the Dragons placed two on the first team and three on the second.

Coatesville, the league doormat with a 0-6 record was the only team not to win one first team berth as Downingtown had two and Phoenixville and Berwyn each one.

Along with Bedell in the backfield were Charlie "The Horse" Lawson, West Chester, Pat Picariello, Bridgeport and Charlie Chiccino, Berwyn.

There was little quibling about three of the four backfield posts. Bedell, Lawson and Picariello won with no trouble at all. It was a close contest for the fourth opening, with Chicinno finally getting the call over several others.

As a Sophomore the past year, Bedell just missed a first team berth, and along with Saveille and Picariello makes the step up from the second squad. Howie has been the Trojans' leading ground-gainer for two years, and along with Lawson was the league's most feared runner this past season.

Lawson paced West Chester to a three-way tie for second place as he was the loop's top point maker with 66 markers. The only game he was held in check was against Pottstown.

Picariello carried the undermanned Bridgeport team on his broad shoulders, especially during the first half of the season. One reason that the Dragons received five first and second team positions was that so many of their players were rarely relieved and thus were more open to observation.

* * *

CHICINNO, one of the five Juniors on the first team, got the nod over Kerr, George Saville and Ed. Denczi in a close session of balloting. Although in and out of the lineup because of injuries, he was regarded as a fine all-around ball player and should be even better next season.

Wensel, Reilly and Joe Thomas, of Phoenix were regarded as the best ends in the league. Big Milt at 230 pounds is the biggest member of the squad and had no peer as a receiver of short passes. His defensive work picked up considerably near the end of the season and attracted attention from most of the scribes.

Reilly is one of three players weighing more than 200 pounds. He scales in at 212, and Downingtown's all-league tackle, Campbell and Bridgeport's Collillouri, a 190 pounder got the nod over Phil Brice of West Chester and Dick Bruch, Phoenixville.

Herbie Lee, the Whippets 178-pound Senior guard who was a shining light in his team's Thanksgiving Day loss to Pottstown received as much support as any player on the all-league team. Jim Redman, the 15-year-old Junior from West Chester was pressed for the other first team berth by Pottstown's co-captain Rettew and Phoenixville's Nick Fedchak.

* * *

WITH SIX WRITERS voting, the choice for center was deadlocked between Saville and George Smisko of Bridgeport. The final selection of Saville, a 165-pound Junior, was made because of his knack of coming up with more outstanding plays.

Pottstown's Babel was regarded as one of the best blockers in the loop but since he was strictly an offensive center he did not receive consideration for a higher spot.

Pottstown's other honorable mention players Bill Fisher and Carl Burns attracted some of the writers but not enough to place on the first two teams. Fisher seldom made the slashing plays that marked him as a standout Junior a year ago. But few runners made substantial gains when they ran in his direction.

Burns played only on offense which hurt his chances in the balloting. But the Berwyn, Coatesville and Downingtown writers remembered him as one of the best runners in the league.

Kerr and Rettew both are the type that are remembered more by their own fans who see them play outstanding ball game after game than the opposition who just gets one look.

Howie Gains 1632 Yards in 2 Years; Kirk Completes 53 Out of 74 Passes

★ ★ ★

JIM KIRK
. . . Jim - Dandy Passer

It comes as no surprise to learn that Howie Bedell has gained almost a mile rushing for Pottstown High the past two seasons. But a real shocker is the amazing two-year passing record of Jim Kirk.

The little quarterback who started the 1953 season as a second-stringer because he wasn't regarded as a very good passer, completed the outstanding total of 53 passes out of the 74 he has thrown the past two years. His completion percentage of .719 would make Otto Graham blush—to say nothing of the statistician who has been overlooking Kirk's achievement these two years.

Last year Jim hit on 24 out of 44 with three interceptions. This campaign he topped off his 19 for 30 mark by hitting on six straight throws in the finale against Downingtown. Two of his passes were intercepted this year.

The 114 yards his passes gained on Thanksgiving Day boosted his 1953 total to 296 yards and upped his two-year output to 510.

* * *

JOSH SOVA'S 12 completions in 46 attempts gained the Trojans an even 100 yards. Only five of Pottstown's 83 passes were intercepted while Bedell, Bill Kerr and company grabbed off 19 enemy aerials.

Bedell carried the ball 32 more times this year than last and finished with 88 more yards. His two-year total for net yardage gained rushing is 1632 yards on 252 carries for an average of 6.4 yards a try.

Carl Burns hauled the mail when Bedell was sitting it out and he romped for 315 yards on 54 carries for a 5.8 norm.

Kerr proved his steadiness by socking the center of the line 61 times and only twice was he halted short of the scrimmage for one-yard losses both times. He gained 201 yards.

* * *

No. 4 in the rushing department for the Trojans was Clark Burns who finished with a net yardage gain of 183 yards in 58 carries.

Nobody had any doubts about the Trojans being a rushing team and the statistics prove it. The club moved the ball 1832 net yards along the ground on 440 carries for an average of 4.3 yards a thrust.

Dick Carr Sets Ivy Loop Mark

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Only one record was broken in Ivy league football during the past season and it was Columbia's Dick Carr who accomplished the feat.

This has been a big year for the 20-year-old Lion Junior. A sub quarterback and defensive halfback in 1952, the six-foot, 180-pounder from Beverly, Mass., blossomed out in '53 as the glamour boy of Ivy football and made the All-Ivy team.

Carr, who played every minute in Columbia's nine games, passed for 363 yards against Dartmouth to set his record and led the league in both total offense and passing, according to the Ivy statistics released today.

* * *

The Lion "Iron Man" completed 77 passes in 191 attempts for 1367 yards and 13 touchdowns. His total offense mark—1262—was lower than his passing yardage since he lost 105 yards on the ground, mostly in trying to get away for aerials.

Royce Flippin of Princeton, with 1103 yards, was second in total offense but first in passing accuracy. He hit on 50 of 86 throws for 58.1 percent.

Haverford Wins Title

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2 (AP)—Haverford college today won the Middle Atlantic conference soccer championship with a 2-1 victory over Drexel Tech in two overtime periods. Earl Harrison scored both Haverford goals.

Hill's Reidenouer Still Hobbled By Knee Injury

The outstanding football showing of Dave Reidenouer the past season may cost The Hill school its basketball captain.

In the final game of the season against Lawrenceville, Reidenouer suffered torn cartilages in his leit knee. That was almost three weeks ago and the erstwhile Pottstown High athlete's injury is responding slowly to whirlpool treatments.

Dave is captain of the Blues' basketball team which opens its season Jan. 13 against PMC Prep. That is more than a month away and the knee may heal completely by that time. But, Dave said, the doctors are not certain just what will happen. "We'll just have to wait and see."

A permanent injury would damage a promising baseball career. As a lefthanded pitcher, Reidenouer played a big part in getting Pottstown High's 40-game winning streak underway, and last Summer he hurled for The Hill.

Seton Hall Meets Lafayette

All Eyes Will be on Bevo Francis When Rio Grande Opens in the Garden

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Bevo Francis will attempt to prove he's more than a basketball freak and Ned Irish will seek to prove that the game isn't dead in New York when the 20th season of college basketball in Madison Square Garden opens tomorrow night.

Francis, who set a series of unmatched and almost unbelievable scoring marks for little Rio Grande college last year, will be the lure by which Irish, the garden basketball boss, hopes to bring back the fans.

The customers stayed away from the garden in large numbers last seasons, but they all heard about Bevo's scoring feat and the furore that arose when the college Basketball Coaches association and the National Collegiate AA agreed that his records weren't acceptable because of the quality of Rio Grande's opposition.

Tomorrow Bevo and Rio Grande will make their first metropolitan appearance against Adelphi college—not a high-powered team, but one of known ability and representing a four-year college. Last season Rio Grande played a lot of junior colleges and other minor institutions. It opened the 1953-54 season in Buffalo last week by swamping Erie Tech, a two-year school, 120-59.

The second game of tomorrow night's doubleheader, first of 19 on the Garden schedule, will bring together Lafayette and St. John's of Brooklyn.

AS A GAWKY, six-foot, nine-inch freshman last year, Francis scored an average of 50.1 points a game and Rio Grande, winning 39 games, averaged 101 points. And if the Ohioans' schedule didn't amount to much, Newt Oliver, their talkative coach, says it was the fault of the big schools that wouldn't give him a game. He has lined up a somewhat better program for this season.

Francis racked up 1954 points on 708 field goals and 538 foul conversions last season. He hit his high of 116 (out of his team's 150) against Ashland college and he flipped in 179 points in two games within 48 hours.

WITH SIX WRITERS voting, the choice for center was deadlocked between Saville and George Smisko of Bridgeport. The final selection of Saville, a 165-pound Junior, was made because of his knack of coming up with more outstanding plays.

Pottstown's Babel was regarded as one of the best blockers in the loop but since he was strictly an offensive center he did not receive consideration for a higher spot.

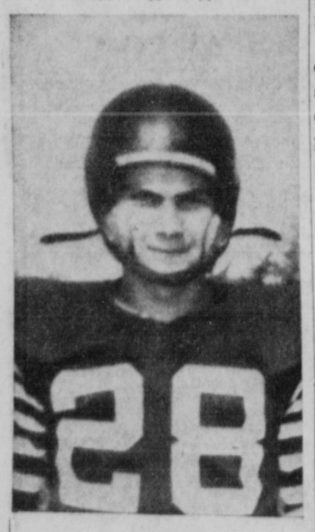
Pottstown's other honorable mention players Bill Fisher and Carl Burns attracted some of the writers but not enough to place on the first two teams. Fisher seldom made the slashing plays that marked him as a standout Junior a year ago. But few runners made substantial gains when they ran in his direction.

Burns played only on offense which hurt his chances in the balloting. But the Berwyn, Coatesville and Downingtown writers remembered him as one of the best runners in the league.

Kerr and Rettew both are the type that are remembered more by their own fans who see them play outstanding ball game after game than the opposition who just gets one look.

Howie Gains 1632 Yards in 2 Years; Kirk Completes 53 Out of 74 Passes

★ ★ ★



JIM KIRK
. . . Jim - Dandy Passer

It comes as no surprise to learn that Howie Bedell has gained almost a mile rushing for Pottstown High the past two seasons. But a real shocker is the amazing two-year passing record of Jim Kirk.

The little quarterback who started the 1953 season as a second-stringer because he wasn't regarded as a very good passer, completed the outstanding total of 53 passes out of the 74 he has thrown the past two years. His completion percentage of .719 would make Otto Graham blush—to say nothing of the statistician who has been overlooking Kirk's achievement these two years.

Last year Jim hit on 24 out of 44 with three interceptions. This campaign he topped off his 19 for 30 mark by hitting on six straight throws in the finale against Downingtown. Two of his passes were intercepted this year.

The 114 yards his passes gained on Thanksgiving Day boosted his 1953 total to 296 yards and upped his two-year output to 510.

* * *

JOSH SOVA'S 12 completions in 46 attempts gained the Trojans an even 100 yards. Only five of Pottstown's 83 passes were intercepted while Bedell, Bill Kerr and company grabbed off 19 enemy aerials.

Bedell carried the ball 32 more times this year than last and finished with 88 more yards. His two-year total for net yardage gained rushing is 1632 yards on 252 carries for an average of 6.4 yards a try.

Carl Burns hauled the mail when Bedell was sitting it out and he romped for 315 yards on 54 carries for a 5.8 norm.

Kerr proved his steadiness by socking the center of the line 61 times and only twice was he halted short of the scrimmage for one-yard losses both times. He gained 201 yards.

* * *

No. 4 in the rushing department for the Trojans was Clark Burns who finished with a net yardage gain of 183 yards in 58 carries.

Nobody had any doubts about the Trojans being a rushing team and the statistics prove it. The club moved the ball 1832 net yards along the ground on 440 carries for an average of 4.3 yards a thrust.

Jacobs to Practice

The Jacobs team of the City Basketball league will hold its second practice of the season tomorrow night at the Junior High gym at 8 o'clock.

Players asked to attend are Bits Umstead, Marty Silverman, Jack Fout, Bull Maloney, Mac McCarthy, Pear Swenk, Ronnie Reynier, Rod Cannell, Bob Cannell, Bob Kirby, Bill Binczak and Jim Taxter.

Dick Carr Sets Ivy Loop Mark

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Only one record was broken in Ivy league football during the past season and it was Columbia's Dick Carr who accomplished the feat.

This has been a big year for the 20-year-old Lion Junior. A sub quarterback and defensive halfback in 1952, the six-foot, 180-pounder from Beverly, Mass., blossomed out in '53 as the glamour boy of Ivy football and made the All-Ivy team.

Carr, who played every minute in Columbia's nine games, passed for 363 yards against Dartmouth to set his record and led the league in both total offense and passing, according to the Ivy statistics released today.

* * *

The Lion "Iron Man" completed 77 passes in 191 attempts for 1367 yards and 13 touchdowns. His total offense mark—1262—was lower than his passing yardage since he lost 105 yards on the ground, mostly in trying to get away for aerials.

Royce Flippin of Princeton, with 1103 yards, was second in total offense but first in passing accuracy. He hit on 50 of 86 throws for 58.1 percent.

Haverford Wins Title

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2 (AP)—Haverford college today won the Middle Atlantic conference soccer championship with a 2-1 victory over Drexel Tech in two overtime periods. Earl Harrison scored both Haverford goals.

Hill's Reidenouer Still Hobbled By Knee Injury

The outstanding football showing of Dave Reidenouer the past season may cost The Hill school its basketball captain.

In the final game of the season against Lawrenceville, Reidenouer suffered torn cartilages in his left knee. That was almost three weeks ago and the erstwhile Pottstown High athlete's injury is responding slowly to whirlpool treatments.

Dave is captain of the Blues' basketball team which opens its season Jan. 13 against PMC Prep. That is more than a month away and the knee may heal completely by that time. But, Dave said, the doctors are not certain just what will happen. "We'll just have to wait and see."

A permanent injury would damage a promising baseball career. As a lefthanded pitcher, Reidenouer played a big part in getting Pottstown High's 40-game winning streak underway, and last Summer he hurled for The Hill.

All Eyes Will be on Bevo Francis When Rio Grande Opens in the Garden

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP)—Bevo Francis will attempt to prove he's more than a basketball freak and Ned Irish will seek to prove that the game isn't dead in New York when the 20th season of college basketball in Madison Square Garden opens tomorrow night.

Francis, who set a series of unmatched and almost unbelievable scoring marks for little Rio Grande college last year, will be the lure by which Irish, the garden basketball boss, hopes to bring back the fans.

The customers stayed away from the garden in large numbers last seasons, but they all heard about Bevo's scoring feat and the furore that arose when the college Basketball Coaches association and the National Collegiate AA agreed that his records weren't acceptable because of the quality of Rio Grande's opposition.

Tomorrow Bevo and Rio Grande will make their first metropolitan appearance against Adelphi college—not a high-powered team, but one of known ability and representing a four-year college. Last season Rio Grande played a lot of junior colleges and other minor institutions. It opened the 1953-54 season in Buffalo last week by swamping Erie Tech, a two-year school, 120-59.

The second game of tomorrow night's doubleheader, first of 19 on the Garden schedule, will bring together Lafayette and St. John's of Brooklyn.

AS A GAWKY, six-foot, nine-inch freshman last year, Francis scored an average of 50.1 points a game and Rio Grande, winning 39 games, averaged 101 points. And if the Ohioans' schedule didn't amount to much, Newt Oliver, their talkative coach, says it was the fault of the big schools that wouldn't give him a game. He has lined up a somewhat better program for this season.

Francis racked up 1954 points on 708 field goals and 538 foul conversions last season. He hit his high of 116 (out of his team's 150) against Ashland college and he flipped in 179 points in two games within 48 hours.

Seixas Angry as Foot Fault Controversy Arises Again

MELBOURNE, Dec. 2 (AP) — A series of stunning reverses failed today to jar the confidence of the US Davis cup team, which is still sure it can recapture the trophy from the Australians later this month.

"What happened at Sydney last week and here this week after all has no bearing on the Davis cup," Captain Bill Talbert said.

"I think its importance in relation to the Davis cup has been over-exaggerated. We have some hard work to do sure but this thing of counting us out is ridiculous."

The Americans received another hard blow today when US champion Tony Trabert and Wimbleton titilist Vic Seitas, their ace doubles team, fell in the semi-finals of the Victorian championships to Rex Hartwig and Mervyn Rose, Australia's second-string tandem.

The scores were 6-8, 6-4, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2.

* * *

PREVIOUSLY the crippled Seixas had lost a second round singles match to George Worthington and Trabert had been beaten in the quarter-finals by Rex Hartwig.

These two dark horse Australians thus took the place of the Americans in what was to be a Davis cup preview.

The Americans planned to scout the Aussies this weekend, then move on to Brisbane Sunday for the Interzone matches Dec. 17-19, probably with Belgium. Belgium plays India this weekend at Perth.

The foot fault controversy arose again today when Seixas was penalized three times and Trabert once for swinging the right foot over the line.

Seixas became angry and protested to the special foot fault judge installed for the occasion. The Wimbleton champion did not try to hide his displeasure.

But discounting the foot faults, the American team did not look good enough to defeat Rosewall and Hoad who beat Clive Wilderspin and Neale Fraser in the semi-finals 6-4, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3. The doubles finals are set for Friday with the singles finals Saturday.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 2 (AP)—Notre Dame's fighting Irish, disappointed at yielding the mythical national football title to Maryland, can get some solace from having their greatest season in history at the turnstiles.

A near capacity crowd of 55,000 is expected at Saturday's Irish finale with Southern Methodist and this will produce a total Notre Dame season attendance—at home and away—of 610,000.

Thus far the first time in their illustrious 65-year football history, the Irish will surpass the 600,000 mark for a single campaign. Notre Dame's largest previous patronage in one year was 580,268 in 1948 when a 10-game season also was played.

* * *

SATURDAY'S throng of 55,000 will further enhance the new home attendance record of 230,884 set in four games against Pittsburgh, Georgia Tech, Navy and Iowa. The old record for four games—the usual number for Notre Dame which had a rare visit from Navy this year—was 228,171 set in 1947.

Atlanta Sessions End

Frick Bars Players' Lawyer from Pension Meeting

ATLANTA, Dec. 2 (AP)—Major league players refused to talk pension business with Ford Frick today after the baseball commissioner barred their lawyer from the proposed session and Frick promptly disclosed that the whole pension system may be junked.

In what appeared an obvious warning to the players to be good, or else, Frick told a press conference that at a Sept. 29 meeting the major league executive council considered dissolving the whole pension program.

No action to that end was taken but Frick said the council appointed one representative from each of the two major leagues to study the problem and recommend whether the pensions should be terminated.

"I am hopeful that something can be worked out to everybody's satisfaction," Frick said. "Personally, I would hate to see the pension plan terminated. The pension plan is one of the best things that could have happened. It is a wonderful thing for the players. I'm sure everybody, including the players and club owners, wants it."

* * *

Shortly after Frick had made his thinly veiled threat, Will Harridge, American league president, told reporters he was withdrawing his invitation to Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees, American league player representative, to attend next week's major league meeting in New York.

The 16 players then held a three-hour session and decided not to meet with Frick under his conditions.

Frick called a press conference late in the afternoon and explained his reason for not permitting the players' attorney to attend. He said he had called an informal session and that no legalities were involved, therefore no attorneys were needed.

Frick added he had told his own attorneys they would not be permitted to attend. Frick said it is a prerogative of the commissioner to call baseball players and officials into informal sessions at any time to discuss problems which may arise.

Inactivity Slows Hayes

Panter Scores Unanimous Decision

DETROIT, Dec. 2 (AP)—Garth Panter, an iron-strong iron worker from Salt Lake city moved ahead relentlessly and scored a unanimous 10-round decision over ring-rusty Norman Hayes tonight before a sparse crowd of 1813 at Olympia stadium.

Hayes weighed 162½, Panter 160.

Hayes, a Boston soldier on a three-day leave from Fort Belvoir, Va., hadn't fought since last May and this inactivity caught up with him after the first two rounds. He was unable to ward off Panter, who pressed the attack through the last seven rounds.

A 23-year-old father of three children, Panter rocked Hayes with rights to the head and the best Hayes could offer in return were wild harmless rights.

After the first two rounds, Hayes seemed to have trouble lifting his gloves above his waistline. He made a perfect target for Panter's overhand rights.

It was, actually, a lopsided fight. The three officials gave Panter a wide edge in the scoring. Referee Lou Handler scored it 56-44; Judge Andy Brown 55-45 and Judge Joe Lucas 54-46.

* * *

THE AP scorecard agreed with Lucas' 54-46

Hayes who had whipped such name fighters as Jake Lamotta and Robert Villemain opened at a brisk clip. It looked as though Army life agreed with him. He landed a solid right-left combination to Panter's chin and followed with a thud to the belly.

Three times referee Handler went to Hayes' corner and told him to step up the pace.

Immediately after the nationally televised bout, it was announced that Hayes was indefinitely suspended by the Michigan Boxing commission for "inept performance and poor condition."

* * *

SINCE MICHIGAN is a member of the National Boxing association the suspension will hold in all other states, including non-member New York, which has an agreement with the NBA to honor all suspensions.

After receiving a warning to "step it up" in the sixth round Hayes told the referee "I was just coasting."

This warning seemed to instill some life into the lithe Bostonian and he landed three straight rights. But Panter, who fought like a panther on the prowl, kept coming on and raked Hayes with assorted wallops.

Inactivity Slows Hayes

Panter Scores Unanimous Decision

DETROIT, Dec. 2 (AP)—Garth Panter, an iron-strong iron worker from Salt Lake city moved ahead relentlessly and scored a unanimous 10-round decision over ring-rusty Norman Hayes tonight before a sparse crowd of 1813 at Olympia stadium.

Hayes weighed 162½, Panter 160.

Hayes, a Boston soldier on a three-day leave from Fort Belvoir, Va., hadn't fought since last May and this inactivity caught up with him after the first two rounds. He was unable to ward off Panter, who pressed the attack through the last seven rounds.

A 23-year-old father of three children, Panter rocked Hayes with rights to the head and the best Hayes could offer in return were wild harmless rights.

After the first two rounds, Hayes seemed to have trouble lifting his gloves above his waistline. He made a perfect target for Panter's overhand rights.

It was, actually, a lopsided fight. The three officials gave Panter a wide edge in the scoring. Referee Lou Handler scored it 56-44; Judge Andy Brown 55-45 and Judge Joe Lucas 54-46.

* * *

Hayes who had whipped such name fighters as Jake Lamotta and Robert Villemain opened at a brisk clip. It looked as though Army life agreed with him. He landed a solid right-left combination to Panter's chin and followed with a thud to the belly.

Three times referee Handler went to Hayes' corner and told him to step up the pace.

Immediately after the nationally televised bout, it was announced that Hayes was indefinitely suspended by the Michigan Boxing commission for "inept performance and poor condition."

* * *

SINCE MICHIGAN is a member of the National Boxing association the suspension will hold in all other states, including non-member New York, which has an agreement with the NBA to honor all suspensions.

After receiving a warning to "step it up" in the sixth round Hayes told the referee "I was just coasting."

This warning seemed to instill some life into the lithe Bostonian and he landed three straight rights. But Panter, who fought like a panther on the prowl, kept coming on and raked Hayes with assorted wallops.

Atlanta Sessions End

Frick Bars Players' Lawyer from Pension Meeting

ATLANTA, Dec. 2 (AP)—Major league players refused to talk pension business with Ford Frick today after the baseball commissioner barred their lawyer from the proposed session and Frick promptly disclosed that the whole pension system may be junked.

In what appeared an obvious warning to the players to be good, or else, Frick told a press conference that at a Sept. 29 meeting the major league executive council considered dissolving the whole pension program.

No action to that end was taken but Frick said the council appointed one representative from each of the two major leagues to study the problem and recommend whether the pensions should be terminated.

"I am hopeful that something can be worked out to everybody's satisfaction," Frick said. "Personally, I would hate to see the pension plan terminated. The pension plan is one of the best things that could have happened. It is a wonderful thing for the players. I'm sure everybody, including the players and club owners, wants it."

* * *

Shortly after Frick had made his thinly veiled threat, Will Harridge, American league president, told reporters he was withdrawing his invitation to Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees, American league player representative, to attend next week's major league meeting in New York.

The 16 players then held a three-hour session and decided not to meet with Frick under his conditions.

Frick called a press conference late in the afternoon and explained his reason for not permitting the players' attorney to attend. He said he had called an informal session and that no legalities were involved, therefore no attorneys were needed.

Frick added he had told his own attorneys they would not be permitted to attend. Frick said it is a prerogative of the commissioner to call baseball players and officials into informal sessions at any time to discuss problems which may arise.

ARMY AND NAVY
The U.S. Military Academy and the U.S. Naval Academy and the City of Philadelphia are in the headlines of most newspapers this week. These academies produce the finest officers in the world. Any American who is lucky enough to have a ticket to see this annual football classic cannot help being thrilled when the cadets from West Point and the Midshipmen from Annapolis march on the field before they take their seats in the huge stadium. It is a sight one will always remember. How proud you are of these boys. You may forget the stars of the football game and you may even forget the score as time marches on, but you will never forget the parade of those cadets and midshipmen as they come on the field.
And you will be thrilled with the performance of any one of our used cars — with their smoothness in running and with their cleanliness — and last but not least, the price will thrill you no end — with bank rates; if you want convenient terms.

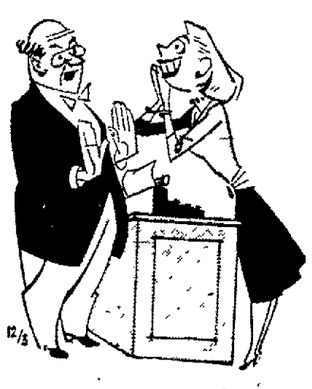
Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

HE WAS THE KIND OF MAN who imagined he had every disease he read about. He didn't even believe the life insurance doctors after they gave him a clean bill of health. When he came home from a month's vacation, his secretary enthused, "I don't think I ever saw you with such a wonderful tan." But he replied gloomily, "You should see how pale I still am—underneath!"



* * *

It's a simple matter for some women to square accounts with hated rivals—particularly if money is no object. Empress Josephine, for instance, was told by Napoleon she must receive a lady she detested. Josephine found out that her foe planned to wear a deep green dress Napoleon had admired. So Josephine had her drawing room completely redecorated in a shade of blue that would ruin the effect of the green dress! And it did!

Royersford Business Men's association met in special session Tuesday night, to discuss a promotion plan to supplant "appreciation days," which recently were discontinued, following a warning from the district attorney.

Action to stop appreciation day awards had been taken at the regular October meeting, when it was reported that District Attorney Stroud Weber listed the promotion as a lottery and said the officers of the association would be prosecuted if the awards continued.

At the Tuesday night meeting, the association voted to secure an attorney to submit a plan which would be within the law.

SENIORS BEGIN REHEARSALS FOR 'MELODY JONES'

Royersford Class Play Scheduled Next Thursday

Under the direction of Mrs Grant Lemmons Royersford High school Seniors have begun rehearsals for their class play, "Melody Jones," to be presented in the High school auditorium next Thursday night at 8:15 o'clock

A matinee will be given for the grade school pupils Wednesday afternoon.

The title role will be played by Elaine Grime.

Others in the cast are: Jane Mowrey, as Mary Jones, Melody's understanding mother: William Rogers, as John Jones, her perturbed father.

Also Carolyn Ritter, as Laura Walkins, Melody's talkative aunt; James Slawecki, the studious brother, Leon Jones, 21, a woman hater, but very fond of Melody; Charles Bender, as Kenneth Carpenter, a walking authority on plant and animal life.

Kathy Richards, Melody's 4-H club instructress will be played by Sharon Krimm.

Joan Wade will take the part of Jennifer Abbey, Melody's bosom sidekick; she can get a little too helpful, too impulsive and always too talkative.

Robert Bush plays Bruce Butler, as suave and good looking as a 22-year-old can be; also very definitely a ladies' man

A lean, droll, goodlooking boy, one not too impressed with girls, especially girls that pursue him, is Stretch Appleby, whose role is taken by Edwin Roussey.

Bernadette Sweeney portrays Francie Wilks, a girl from the deep South — but there's nothing deep about Francie. She's all on the surface and known by her shrill siren-like giggle.

SENIORS BEGIN REHEARSALS FOR 'MELODY JONES'

Royersford Class Play Scheduled Next Thursday

Under the direction of Mrs. Grant Lemmons, Royersford High school Seniors have begun rehearsals for their class play, "Melody Jones," to be presented in the High school auditorium next Thursday night at 8:15 o'clock.

A matinee will be given for the grade school pupils Wednesday afternoon.

The title role will be played by Elaine Grime.

Also Carolyn Ritter, as Laura Walkins, Melody's talkative aunt; James Slawecki, the studious brother, Leon Jones, 21, a woman hater, but very fond of Melody; Charles Bender, as Kenneth Carpenter, a walking authority on plant and animal life.

Kathy Richards, Melody's 4-H club instructress, will be played by Sharon Krimm.

Joan Wade will take the part of Jennifer Abbey, Melody's bosom sidekick; she can get a little too helpful, too impulsive and always too talkative.

Robert Bush plays Bruce Butler, as suave and good looking as a 22-year-old can be; also very definitely a ladies' man.

A lean, droll, goodlooking boy, one not too impressed with girls, especially girls that pursue him, is Stretch Appleby, whose role is taken by Edwin Roussey.

PHOENIXVILLE HOSPITAL

Discharged: Mrs. John J. Coll and son, Mrs. Dallas Funk and daughter, Patricia Krill, Clyde Scheib, Mrs. Stephen Mysawka, Mrs. Joseph Costira, all of Phoenixville; William Hessler, Royersford; Robert Saylor, Virginia Litton, Spring City; Mrs. John Brower, Denton, Md.; Mrs. Ida Litka, Oaks.

Two Club Women Attend Reciprocity Luncheon

Mrs. Amos Heinly and Mrs. William A. Harbison, Royersford club women, attended a reciprocity luncheon at the Conshohocken Women's club Tuesday.

In Memoriam 3

BLONDY, Pauline—In loving memory of my dear Mother who passed away two years ago today, December 3, 1951.
Always in my thoughts, dear Mother,
Forever you will be.
You live in hearts you left behind,
As in my memory.
I often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died.
To think you didn't ever have the time to say goodbye.
For all of us you did your best,
May God grant you Eternal Rest.
Sadly missed by daughter Dorothy and granddaughter Patricia. Mass will be celebrated at St. Peter's Church at 7:30 a. m.

In Memoriam 3

BLONDY, Pauline—In loving memory of my dear Mother who passed away two years ago today, December 3, 1951.
Always in my thoughts, dear Mother,
Forever you will be,
You live in hearts you left behind,
As in my memory.
I often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died.
To think you didn't ever have the time to say goodbye.
For all of us you did your best,
May God grant you Eternal Rest.
Sadly missed by daughter Dorothy and granddaughter Patricia. Mass will be celebrated at St. Peter's Church at 7:30 a. m.
